

TAX REPRISAL IN D.C.?

Dennis Plan Would Boost Cost of Dying

Unless San Francisco Mayor Joseph Alioto drops his controversial proposal to tax commuters, the cost of funerals in that city might increase.

In a letter to Alioto this week, Daly City councilman Edward J. Dennis threatened to take the matter of taxing funeral processions through the city en route to Colma cemeteries up with the full board — if the tax proposal isn't buried first.

Dennis said he had checked out the legalities surrounding the levying of charges on these processions and was told it is on firmer ground than Alioto's taxation talks which were temporarily laid to rest in a recent lower court ruling.

"Being one of several thousand Daly City citizens that travel to San Francisco daily to our places of employment (Dennis is president of the San Francisco Milk Drivers and Dairy Employees' Union) it seems that your proposed Commuter Tax recently ruled illegal should not be pursued any further."

There were also words of praise for Alioto from Dennis: "... the municipality of Daly City presently has a fine working relationship (with SF) on all mutual services, including police, fire and the Cow Palace."

"Our community regards you as a very energetic sincere mayor, but disagrees with you in your endeavor for us to pay San Francisco's tax burden," Dennis wrote.

There are currently some 800 funeral processions passing through Daly City monthly. The revenues from this source would put an estimated $250,000 annually into the city's coffers, figured on the average rate of $40 per funeral.

In closing his letter, Dennis again pleaded with Alioto "in the best interests of continued good neighbors" to stop pushing the commuter tax matter.

Other San Mateo County communities have talked of retaliatory measures to take if and when Alioto's proposal passes. However, observers saw Dennis' proposal as the first "real" action that could be implemented almost overnight. —F.L.P.

'Toughest Ever Imposed'

Pacifica Protesting New Sewerage Toxicity Limits

By DON GRIERSON

City officials in Pacifica are protesting new "strict requirements on sewerage toxicity" imposed by the Regional Water Quality Control Board.

The new requirements, the "toughest ever imposed upon a Coastside city," pertain to toxic elements discharged into the ocean, Public Works Director David Thompson said, and were imposed after the city applied for a federal grant in connection with planned expansion of sewer treatment facilities.

Thompson said the city's effluent discharged into the ocean has a "low level of toxicity," and his chief objection to the new state requirements involves the cost of testing the effluent for toxicity, an expense which will have to be borne by the city.

The first report from the state indicated the city would have to perform the test "four or five times each year," he said, at a cost of about $100 per test.

"They have since indicated we may be able to reduce this to two tests each year," he said. Water Quality Control Board members are scheduled to take up the matter at their meeting December 18, according to Thompson.

Board staff members usually conduct a review of sewerage toxicity and other factors when a city applies for federal funds to improve treatment facilities, the public works director said.

Applications Asked

San Bruno Park Needs a Trustee

The San Bruno Park Elementary School District today called for applications to fill a vacancy on the board of trustees created November 18 by the resignation of Mrs. Mary Preston.

District Supt. George Lawry said the board determined on Monday to accept applications for Mrs. Preston's seat from November 25 through December 13 at the district offices at 500 Acacia Avenue.

Interviewing by trustees of San Bruno registered voters who indicate they want to serve on the board will be conducted between January 6 and January 10, Lawry said.

The new board member, to be appointed by trustees, would be seated at the January 13 meeting of the board.

Mrs. Preston, who was the board clerk, said only she was resigning because she could not fulfill her term if office.

She had been appointed in February, along with trustee Edwin Newton, who has become the new board clerk.

Mrs. Preston had replaced Eugene Robbins on the board when he moved from the area.

Saddletown Rezoning Is Postponed

when hearings were held last July.

Instead, the council elected to collect the $18 sewer fee as a separate item listed on the county tax bill.

Lebonville and others have expressed the opinion that the tax should be "pro rated" according to property value, and they opposed the flat user's fee.

Mayor Nick Gust said the council has "already held more public hearings than the law requires" on the sewer charge issue, and indicated no further hearings will be held until the charge has been in effect "for at least one year."

According to Lebonville, councilmen said last summer they would reconsider the issue in one year.

Development Plans Given

Tiburon developer Kurt Heath presented architect's drawings and plans for the proposed multi-million dollar convention center and apartment complex slated for construction at the Wander Inn site in Pacifica Monday, but the council took no action on the project.

Mayor Nick Gust said the matter was entered upon the agenda "at the last minute," and city officials requested more time to study the project before reaching a final decision.

The plan, calling for a "small convention center" and an apartment complex, was approved "in theory" several months ago, after Heath agreed to devote the major portion of the site to the convention center "commercial recreation" use.

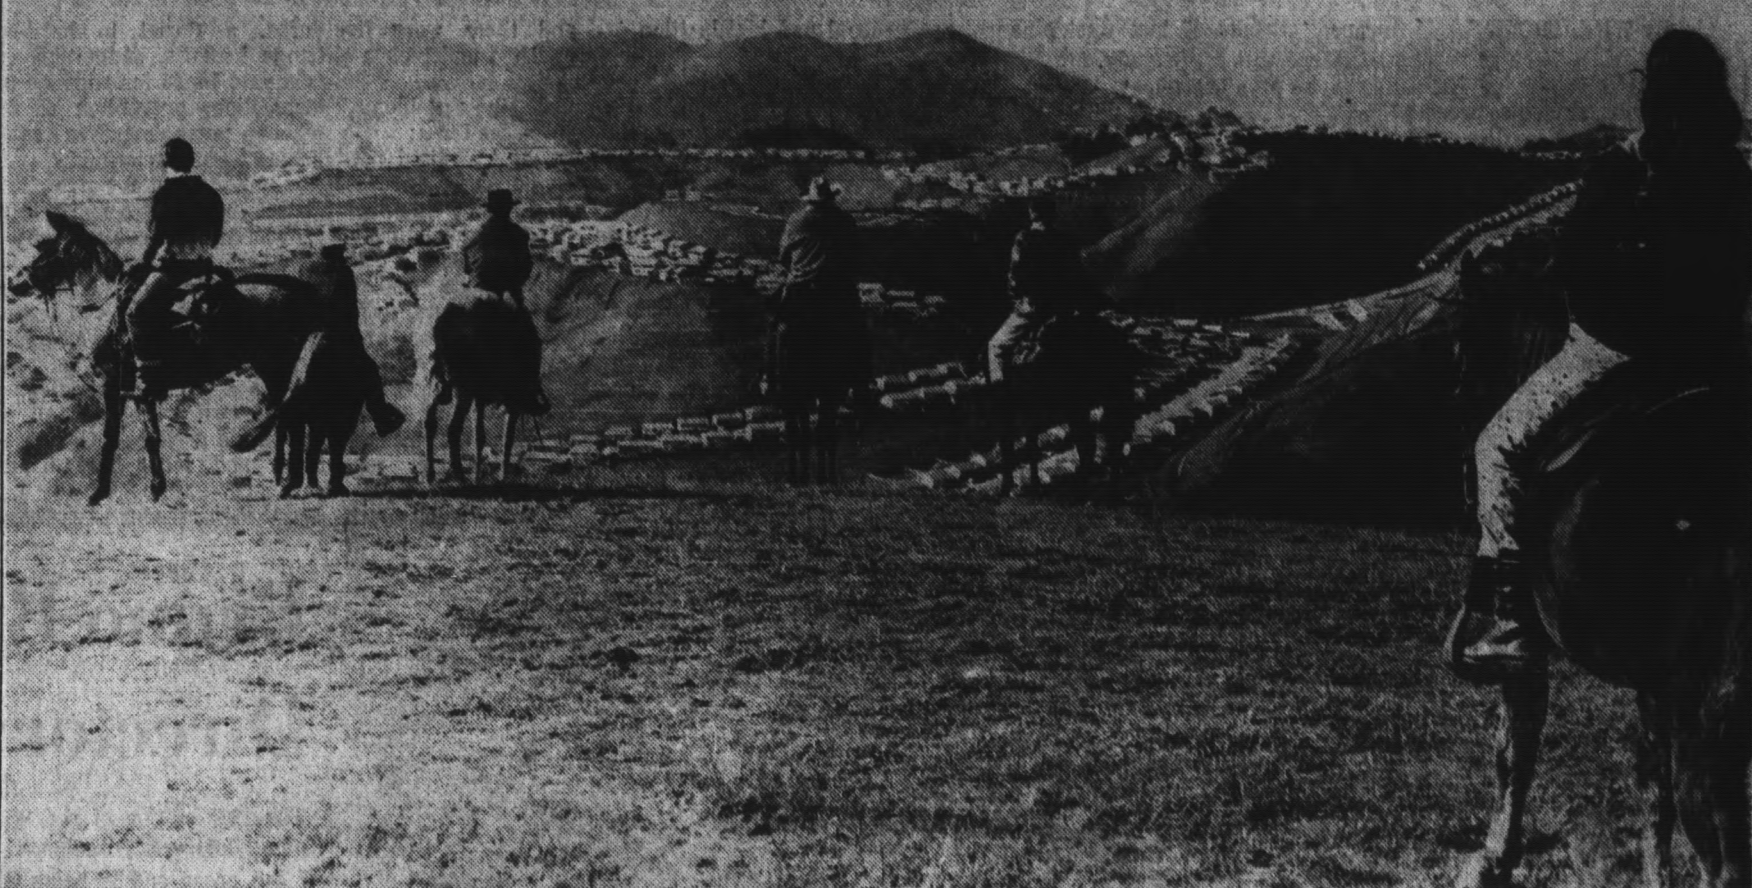

Youth Day In Pacifica

Seven Pacifica High School students sat with council members and city staff members at Monday's council meeting as part of the "Youth in Government Day" observance in the city.

Filling in for Mayor Nick Gust was Tom Molar, and Phil Gates served as vice mayor. Youth "councilmen" were Larry Dryden, Zylva Gee and Judy Urbanschnitz.

Roy Avery was "city manager for a day" and Dave Morton was city engineer.

THE LAST ROUNDUP?

HOME(S) ON THE RANGE — The view from Sweeney Ridge was changed somewhat since Don Gaspar de Portola made the ascent and spotted San Francisco Bay some 200 years ago. Where the "deer and the antelope" played in days gone by, there are now only "homes on the range." But the view from the discovery site is still spectacular, and 26 horsemen, led by Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust, made the laborious trip to the top last week. (See story, other pictures, Page 7. Post Photo by Donna Starr).

Sketch Aids In Capture Of Suspect

A young housewife's sketch of her assailant has aided Daly City police in netting a San Francisco man suspected of terrorizing women in the east side of the city during recent months.

Police had mounted an intensive search for the suspect in a series of sex attacks which started last June when a woman was raped in her east side home in broad daylight after being threatened with a knife.

A man fitting the same description hit again two weeks when he broke into the Hillside Boulevard apartment of a young mother and forced her to disrobe at knifepoint. Screams from the victim's five-year-old son drove the man off.

The woman immediately drew a pencil sketch of her attacker and the likeness and description was published in this newspaper with the co-operation of detective captain Richard Sims and sergeant Bob Staples, investigators on the case.

Arrested and charged with the June rape was Michael Edward Apodaca, a 22-year-old San Francisco sausage maker and the father of an 18 month old child who resides at 2 Italy Street in that city with his wife.

Apodaca was arraigned in Northern San Mateo County Court Monday and was held in the county jail in Redwood City in lieu of $6,200 bail.

Police armed with the sketch made the rounds of the neighborhoods where the incidents had been reported, showing the picture and asking questions.

An apartment house manager remembered a man answering Apodaca's description inquiring (Please See Page 2, Column 7)

DALY CITY IMPROVEMENT

County Approves Share Of Market St. Project

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors closed a public hearing on the Market Street improvement project Monday and gave engineers the green light to proceed with the county's portion of the program. Improvements along the roadway are estimated at some $470,000, with the county and city of Daly City sharing costs.

Several homes in the county portion of the project must be removed or relocated along with some ten feet of roadway.

Parking in the area will be made parallel in the school area, thus cutting out about ten parking slots.

Traffic control lights will be installed at the busy Hillside and Market Street intersection. Costs of this will be borne by the county.

Mrs. Anthony Aiello and Mrs. Peggy Shultz appeared before the supervisors on behalf of the Hillside Homeowners Association and asked for an additional signal at the corner of Market and Orange Streets. Such a signal would have to be paid for by Daly City, they were informed.

Girl Locked in Room

A 'Child Neglect' Complaint Is Sought Against Parents

A San Francisco State physical education instructor has been charged with child neglect after Daly City police found his four-year-old daughter locked in a bedroom.

Police said the little girl had apparently been locked in the bedroom of the apartment at 2 Second Avenue for several hours Monday afternoon while both parents were out visiting.

A complaint has been sought against Arthur Bridgman, 45, and his 33-year-old wife, Alberta on the charges, it was learned Monday.

Both parents are presently on probation on similar charges stemming from three past incidents involving the child.

Last March, the child was found wandering nude around the city. The child picked up and placed in custody for several hours before the parents showed up to claim her, police said.

Monday's incident came to the attention of police when the child, left without water or toilet facilities, broke out a bedroom window with a hammer and waved a mop at passersby.

Officer Don Horsely forced his way into the apartment when no one answered.

The child was placed in the custody of the county receiving home pending further investigation of the case.

Commission Posts Filled In Daly City

The Daly City council quickly filled two vacant city commission posts during their regular session Monday night.

Edward O'Donnell, vice president of the Trans-Pacific Transportation Company, Oriental Terminal Company of San Francisco and the Indies Terminal Company, was unanimously appointed to fill the post of recently resigned Planning Commissioner Richard T. Dwyer.

Dwyer had been on the city planning commission since 1959, but requested he be relieved from the position because he now resides outside Daly City. His accounting firm, however, will remain in the city, Dwyer assured the council.

In another appointment, long time civic leader Raymond Forcina was appointed to replace Bernard Albrecht on the City's Recreation Commission.

Albrecht resigned effective immediately because of his recent appointment to the San Mateo County Housing Authority, according to a letter sent the council.

"I feel that the best interest of both the Recreation Commission and the Housing Authority would be served by devoting my time to just one of the organizations," Albrecht said.

Forcina, a 16 year resident of Daly City, is owner of the GMG Paint Company, a past president of the Skyline Merchants' Association; past director of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, and active in many other civic groups.

County Urged To Abandon SSF Project

County Engineer Don S. Wilson recommended Tuesday the Westborough Boulevard extension project in South San Francisco be abandoned and that the $1.4 million budgeted for the project be allocated to other highway projects.

In a letter to the Board of Supervisors Wilson recited the history of the controversies between the county and the city over the project. Most of the problems were solved but the last one, a demand by the city that a flood control subzone be established to maintain the drainage structure under the thoroughfare, proved to be insurmountable, Wilson indicated.

Wilson noted that the city had served notice that, unless the county agreed to the demand, the entire project would be called off. So be it, Wilson told the board.

The matter was scheduled for discussion at the board meeting next Tuesday at 3:45 p.m.

Wilson sent a copy of his letter to the South San Francisco City Council.

Escapee Is Picked Up In Daly City

Daly City police Monday picked up an 18-year-old escapee from the San Francisco Youth Guidance Center at his home.

John A. Self, 18, of 47 Risel Street, Daly City, surrendered to officer Charles Munday without resistance at his home after police received a tip that he was staying there.

Jeff Teachers Draft 1969 Negotiating Package

By WILL THOMAS

A program within the school day involving students, parents, teachers, counselors, community business, professional and political figures should be adopted by Jefferson High School District trustees to work toward solution of school and educational problems.

This was one of numerous recommendations made by the Jefferson High School District Teachers' Association, which released yesterday the "semi-refined" results of last week's JHSDTA task force study.

60 Plan 'Package'

Some 60 members of the teachers' association had met at Oceana High School in Pacifica for its first leadership and dinner-planning conference, at which the proposed 1969 negotiating package was drafted.

The results covered a multitude of bases, including JHSDTA thoughts on "major problems" facing the district's teachers, and negotiating results as well as educational, finance, professional and legislative concerns.

The report also delved into what teachers think are specific problems at individual high schools in the district.

"What does the association think are the major problems presently facing teachers in this district?" was a primary question asked the group at its meeting.

Five Categories

The answers, as put together by the JHSDTA leadership, were in five categories — education, finance, professional, legislative and community action — and there were five "problems" listed under each of the headings.

In summary, the "problems," as the teachers see them:

Education — A critical need for relevant education, a crisis in counseling loads, imminent collapse of the departmental system in some schools a critical need for more realistic graduation requirements, recognition of the uses for more para-professional services.

Finance — Probably swift loss of competitive position in Bay Area salary rankings, antiquated and inaccurate budget procedures, a threat to hard-won fringe benefits, dangerously inadequate funds for supplies and instruction, prevention of real teacher involvement in establishing budget priorities.

See Need of Force

Professional — A laxity in the provision and enforcement of regulations for the legal and physical safety of teachers and other personnel, lack of teacher confidence in the district administration, failure of frank, honest teacher communications to elicit wise, professional responses, a growing necessity for force and labor methods, desperate need for in-service training in human responses and new teaching techniques.

Legislative — Inadequate local, state and federal financial legislation, need for strong transfer policy, need for revision of department head policy, need for re-definition of "remedial" in class-size policy, need for stronger bonds between association and union to foster mutual action.

Community Action — No real recognition of student voice in school decisions, no clear need for family life education, need for expansion of emotional handicapped program, crisis in community, school, student communications, a deepening crisis in majority-minority socio-economic relationships.

Assert Problems

The teachers' unit also related problems at specific schools, asserted to be:

Jefferson — Poor communication with San Francisco State and serious truancy and attendance problems.

Oceana — Creeping class size problems and class-cutting problems.

Serramonte — Inadequate supply and instructional budget and need for a minority curriculum.

Terra Nova — Remedial class size problem and poor teacher-administration communications.

Westmoor — Resignation of department heads in English and social science, textbook selection and budget problems, lack of teacher involvement in curriculum revision and necessary teacher involvement in curriculum implementation.

In relation to the negotiating council, the teachers stated the board and the district's superintendent "should be made to adhere strictly to the Winton Act."

Finance Unit Hossli Named To Statewide

Daly City Finance Director Robert Hossli has been appointed to a state committee by State Controller Houston Flournoy.

The special committee of seven city officials is charged with the task of developing a standard form for general law city annual financial reports.

The 1968 Legislature amended the Government Code to require that city financial reports be published in a form prescribed by the State Controller. The committee has been appointed to assist in the adoption of the necessary administration regulations.

Hossli was appointed Finance Director for Daly City in November, 1966. He previously held the same post in the city of Santa Maria and Yuba City.

Bruno Business Directory Ready

The 1969 edition of the "San Bruno Business Directory" is off the press and is being distributed to the 11,000 households and 600 business firms in San Bruno by the Chamber of Commerce.

San Bruno photographer Dick Stagg, chairman of the Chamber's Directory Publishing Committee, announced that the new directory is the result of six months work by the Chamber of Commerce to bring an accurate and up-to-date listing of all business, professional, community services and information to the residents of San Bruno.

The 36-page community buyers' guide contains some 100 local business advertisements which produced the finances needed to permit publishing of the annual directory.

The Chamber of Commerce provides 11,000 copies for free distribution to every household in San Bruno with 1,000 copies held in reserve for delivery during the year to some 1,000 newcomers to the community.

SSF's Westborough Project Doomed?

The million dollar Westborough Boulevard Extension project in South San Francisco appeared to be definitely "off" today, with Mayor Frank Bertucci and members of the council adopting a "hard line" on the demand that the county maintain a drainage facility connected with the project. County supervisors last week refused the city's request that a drainage facility be installed in connection with the road work be maintained as part of the San Mateo County Flood Control District.

Supervisors indicated they intend to drop the road project entirely if the city insists maintenance of the drainage pipe is a county responsibility.

In a prepared statement today, Mayor Bertucci said the council has considered maintenance of the flood control drain "one of the principal concerns in the Westborough Boulevard project," and maintenance of the facility "was one of the conditions for council approval of the Westborough Extension."

"If the road is constructed, we want a complete engineering solution to the flooding problem connected with it, and we want it maintained by the organization created to maintain such structures."

"That is not too much to ask," he said, "and furthermore, it has been a common understanding for more than a year that the Twelve-mile Creek pipe would be a flood control district facility."

The mayor said County Engineer Don Wilson's recommendation that the facility not be included in the county flood control district came as a "complete surprise."

He pointed out that most of the flood waters to be handled by the drainage facility would come from areas outside the City of South San Francisco, such as the Serramonte area in neighboring Daly City, and maintenance of the drain pipe "should be a regional concern."

"A flood control district is similar to a 'mini-regional government,'" he said. "If the county accepts the idea of regional solutions, here is the chance to prove it."

The drain pipe in question would stretch from Junipero Serra Boulevard and El Camino Real, and would replace the "natural" creek drain.

Bertucci said he has polled other members of his council, and they are unanimous in "refusing to give in" on the issue.

The project will be brought up for formal council action at the next regular meeting, he said.

Burglars Ransack Four Homes

Burglars ransacked four homes on Lassen and Amador drives in San Bruno over the weekend.

Police reported the residences of Walter J. Bernard, 275 Lassen; Milton J. Bonzell, 206 Lassen; George A. Zet, 330 Amador, and Joseph A. Gaggero, 210 Amador, were burglarized.

The Bernard home was entered Saturday between 4 and 11:15 p.m., the rooms ransacked and an amplifier and radio taken.

At the Bonzell residence, a television set, camera, slide projector, sewing machine and an undetermined amount of cash was removed.

The Zets lost a television set and a stereo, the theft reported at 1:50 a.m. Sunday to San Bruno police.

Gaggero reported that three footballs, three portable radios and $100 in cash were taken between 6:20 and 10:35 p.m. Sunday.

In each burglary, police said, means of entry was not known. It appeared a spokesman for the police department said, that the locks to the front doors might have been slipped.

Credit Card Theft Told

A San Bruno man was arrested early November 20 when he allegedly attempted to purchase two sets of tires at a South San Francisco service station with a stolen credit card.

Eugene T. Wilbert, 27, an unemployed carpenter, presented the card at the Jax Shell Station, 123 Linden, about 1 a.m., according to police.

The attendant on duty, Gerald Haines, checked the card against a list of stolen credit cards kept inside the station, and telephoned police.

Wilbert departed from the station before police arrived, but was apprehended a few blocks away.

Circuit Assembly For 'Witnesses'

Fifteen-hundred Jehovah's Witnesses from San Francisco and the Peninsula will attend their semi-annual circuit assembly, December 20-22, at Winterland Arena in San Francisco.

Representing the Daly City congregation will be a delegation led by William Thompson.

Westlake's See's Store Is Robbed

An armed youth held up the See's Candy Shop in the Westlake Shopping Center Saturday night and fled after grabbing an estimated $15 from the till.

Two women clerks in the shop, who asked not to be identified, told police the suspect walked into the store about 9 p.m., brandished a small caliber automatic pistol and demanded all the money from the register.

After getting the money the gunman ran from the shop and disappeared in the darkness.

The suspect was described as 5 foot, 8 inches, 150 pounds, 22 years old, brown hair, fair complexion, slender, wearing a green jacket and dark horn-rimmed glasses.

2 Men Held On Credit Card Charger

Two men were arrested in South San Francisco Thursday after they attempted to purchase tires with a stolen credit card, in the presence of a police officer.

Walter Roosevelt Locke of San Francisco, and Rivers Miles, 41, of Los Angeles, were arrested at 3:20 p.m. when they attempted to use the credit card at Jack's Texaco Station on Mission Road.

Officer Ray McKeon was making a "routine business license check" at the station, and overheard a conversation between the two suspects and an attendant at the station, police said.

The two suspects could not produce identification to match the credit card.

In their car, McKeon found a quantity of marijuana in a plastic bag, according to police reports.

Both were charged with possession of a stolen credit card and possession of marijuana.

It was the third arrest in the city within two weeks involving stolen credit cards, police said.

Exhibits Win

College of San Mateo students were among the winners in the student section of the Technical Illustrator's Management Association Exhibition at Los Altos.

Pacificans Visit the Portola 'Discovery Site

"Miss Pacifica" Aleena Branson took her first horseback ride Sunday morning. Miss Branson was one of 26 Pacifica residents participating in a five-hour trail ride over the Portola Discovery Site atop Sweeney Ridge. She received emergency riding instructions from Mayor Nick Gust.

Pacificans Mayor Nick Gust was among 26 riders "tall in the saddle" Sunday during a tour of the Portola Discovery Site. The five-hour horseback outing was conducted by Gust and Portola Foundation membership chairman Carl McCarthy as a preview of next year's 200th Anniversary celebration of the Bay discovery. (See below.)

Twenty-six Pacificans, led by Mayor Nick Gust and Portola Foundation membership chairman Carl McCarthy, participated in a five-hour horseback tour of the Portola Discovery Site on Sweeney Ridge Sunday.

Conducted as a preview of the coming 200th Anniversary celebration commemorating Don Gaspar de Portola's discovery of San Francisco Bay from the site in 1769, the horseback tour traversed portions of the proposed "scenic parkway" route along the ridge, and the proposed 186 Freeway route.

Aleena Branson, "Miss Pacifica," was also among the riding group, which included members of the Vallejo Riding Club. Coffee and doughnuts were served "in the saddle" from the ridge.

Members of the Portola Foundation are working to have the discovery site declared a state and national monument, and to assure its preservation in the "natural state."

According to McCarthy, the discovery site has "worldwide historical significance, commands spectacular bay and ocean views, and predates all but two existing official sites" now recognized as monuments in the state.

D.C. Mechanic Is Sent to Prison

Clifford James Thomas, 26-year-old Daly City mechanic who was convicted three weeks ago of nine felony counts of robbery, rape, kidnaping and sex perversion, was sentenced on Friday to consecutive terms in state prison.

The effect of the action by Superior Judge James T. O'Keefe is that Thomas will have to spend 104 months in prison, instead of 84, before he is eligible to apply for parole.

Thomas was convicted of forcing two girls at gunpoint to accompany him to San Bruno Mountain where the sex acts were performed, after having held up a Daly City gas station.

Judge O'Keefe, acting on the recommendation of Probation Officer Ray Foer, made the sentence for the crimes involving the girls, which calls for life in prison, and for the gas station robbery, which is five years to life, consecutive. Faber explained that parole from life terms is possible after 84

Ex-49ers In Strange Case Of Lawsuit

Offspring of two former San Francisco Forty-niners are on opposite sides of a $300,000 damage suit filed in Superior Court in Redwood City Friday.

They are Lynn St. Clair, 18-year-old son of County Supervisor Robert St. Clair, and Terise Susoeff, 18, of Palo Alto, daughter of the late Nick Susoeff. St. Clair, an all-star tackle, played with the football pros from 1953 to 1964. Susoeff, an end, was a member of the team from 1946 to 1949 when it was in the old All-American Conference.

The lawsuit was filed by attorney Meyer Scher for Michael W. Ford, 21, of Palo Alto, and Miss Susoeff, his fiancée, who were injured in Burlingame last June 30 when their car collided with an auto driven by young St. Clair. Supervisor St. Clair, as the owner of the car, is named a defendant as well as his son.

The accident happened at El Camino Real and Murchison Drive. The suit blames the crash on careless and negligent driving on the part of young St. Clair.

Ford and Miss Susoeff, who plan to be married soon, ask $150,000 each.

Hart Sued In Traffic Fatality

A $150,000 suit for damages was filed against baseball player Jim Ray Hart Friday by the husband and son of a Daly City woman who was struck and killed by Hart's car October 30.

The suit was filed in Superior Court in Redwood City by Paul Selmi, a former Daly City mayor, and his son, Richard.

Mrs. Dorothy Pauline Selmi, 62, was killed while crossing Mission Street at Como Street, within sight of her husband's real estate office. The lawsuit alleges that she was in the crosswalk and that the accident was the result of "careless and negligent" driving on the part of the Giants' third baseman.

Mr. and Mrs. Selmi had moved to the Rossmoor retirement center near Walnut Creek four years ago but Selmi maintained a business office in Daly City.

Guns Are Stolen At San Bruno

Burglars broke into the home of Roger Graniss at 3110 College Drive during the past week and stole a .45-caliber automatic pistol, .30-caliber carbine, a portable television set and home movie equipment, San Bruno police reported.

Entry to the home was made through an unlocked rear window, police said.

Gift of Life, Hope Object Of C-S Memorial Program

A gift of life and hope to cancer victims is the purpose of the American Cancer Society's year-round memorial program, according to Mrs. Max Wahl of Daly City, memorial chairman for San Mateo County Branch, ACS.

"Particular emphasis on commemorative contributions occurs during the holiday season," Mrs. Wahl said this week. Memorial giving provides "a practical and appropriate way for families or friends to establish a useful remembrance honoring a loved one who has died of cancer or other causes," she continued.

The Cancer Society acknowledges memorial contributions by sending cards to the bereaved noting the names of donors. Contributions may be mailed or indicated by a telephone call to the ACS branch office at 1517 South B Street, San Mateo.

The memorial program is an important source of support for the Cancer Society's many research, service and education programs, Mrs. Wahl commented. "A commemorative gift provide further ammunition in the continuing battle to destroy cancer as a threat to human life," she concluded.

ANOTHER objective in the continuing battle against cancer is plotted by Mrs. Max Wahl, memorial gift chairman for San Mateo County Branch, American Cancer Society, and Dr. Robert O. Holmes, branch president. They're in the vanguard of volunteers pointing out the appropriateness of "memorial giving to help the living" during the holiday season.

provide further ammunition in the continuing battle to destroy cancer as a threat to human life," she concluded.

Counselors Attend Meet On Youth

Why is today's youth rebellion more serious than rebellions of the past?

What do young people think about sex, drugs, their parents, racial integration? Why are some young activists trying to pull down "the Establishment"? What must schools and colleges do to educate activist youth?

Miss Margaret Riggs, assistant principal guidance and Mrs. Doris Lindfors, counselor at Westmoor High School, participated in finding the answers to these questions at the 20th Annual California Conference on Educational Research recently at the St. Francis Hotel.

Sponsored by the California Council on Educational Research, an agency of the California Teachers Association, the conference featured discussions on the theme "Educating Activist Youth - A Challenge to Research" by more than 40 teachers, university and college and school administration research experts. More than 450 educators attended the conference.

In the first general session Dr. David Gottlieb attempted to explain the activist youth of today who has grown up in affluence, violence, and yet sheltered from meaningful experiences.

Both by symposiums and general sessions Miss Riggs and Mrs. Lindfors investigated drug abuse education, motivation of the activists, sex and the activist, programs of education for the activist and racial problems. One symposium entitled "Youth Breaks the Rules" was geared to the high school level.

LOOKING FOR SOME FRESH IDEAS?

It's always fun to read about some little ideas that can add a new, fresh look and sparkle to your home, and so this week we're happy to bring you a few thoughts, any one of which you might enjoy trying.

Have a few throw cushions (some call them "scatter pillows") covered in the same fabric as your draperies. Use either the same color, or contrasting colors, or even a combination of both. This can add a nice touch to a room.

How about rearranging the furniture in a room? Try your sofa on another wall and re-group all the other living room pieces differently. The same thing can be done in other rooms in the house, either just for a change, or for a general improvement of the room.

Do you have a pole or floor lamp that needs brightening up? One idea is to let an artificial vine climb up the pole spirally.

Do you have more tables in your living room than you really need? Replace one or two of them with a vase or basket of flowers.

Want other ideas to give your home a fresh, decorator touch? Pay us a visit and we'll be happy to show you a wonderful selection of new furniture and ideas. Come on in.

Wizard of Oz Performance On Coastside

Members of the Pacifica Branch of the American Association of University Women are seeking children to "follow the yellow brick road" to Oddstad Center on Sunday, December 8 at 2:30 p.m.

The local organization will host the matinee performance of the Wizard of Oz presented by the Pacifica Spindrift Players.

This ageless favorite of many a childhood will feature Miss Terry Turner in the role of Dorothy. Terry, a twelve-year-old seventh grader at Cabrillo School, not only enjoys acting but is an avid reader, loves horses and delights her parents with her culinary achievements.

The dramatization is by Elizabeth Fuller Goodspeed from the story by Frank L. Baum. The Pacifica production is through the courtesy of Samuel French, Inc.

Special effects will be an added attraction by Mike and Mimi Haggerty, who recently entertained an audience with their light show.

Tickets for the December 8th performance may be purchased from A.A.U.W. members or by calling Mrs. Paul McBride. Children's tickets and adult tickets are at moderate price. Popcorn and soft drinks will be sold before curtain call and during intermission.

Since only 150 tickets are available, early purchase of tickets is advisable, sponsors say.

Gunman Flees With $800

A gunman held up the El Rancho Drive-in in South San Francisco Friday night and fled with an estimated $800 after forcing the manager and an attendant to lie face down on the floor of the small ticket booth.

Police said the holdup man was armed with a black revolver and walked up to the booth about 10 p.m. while manager Robert Corbin and employee Tony Martin were counting the night's receipts.

After grabbing all the currency, the man, described as in his thirties, ordered his two victims to lie on the floor.

S.S.F. Opera Workshop Is Started

The South San Francisco Adult School is offering to interested adults a training program for singers, the Opera Workshop. This class has been created to train singers in the roles of operas of the standard repertory.

The instructor for this class is Norma DiTano, well-known opera coach. Miss DiTano has been associated with first-run companies for many years. She taught both at the San Francisco and Los Angeles Conservatories of Music, and has been the sole west coast coach for Mme. Licia Albanese. Miss DiTano has also coached other famous singers, namely, Stella Roman, Giorgio Tozzi and Salvatore Baccioni.

The workshop meets at El Camino High School, 1320 Old Mission Road, Thursday evenings from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The class is open to the public and beginners are welcomed.

Westmoor Youth Prize

Westmoor junior Chris Sullivan recently captured a third-place trophy in competition for her speech, "Killing a Dream," a commentary on youth ideals.

This win qualifies Chris for competition in the National Forensic Finals to be held in Los Angeles during February. Approximately 400 students participated in various areas of speech in the competition held at Kennedy High School in Oakland. Among the competitors were Westmoor students Rich Adams, John Bennett, Jeff Harris, Mike Lucchesi, Joe O'Connor, Patty Powell, Steve Rosenthal, Pete Seagrave, Chris Seili, and Debbie Thompson.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS

By ALICE REICHERT

SEVERAL TERRA NOVA senior social science classes attended a lecture-discussion period led by Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust on November 20, to answer the questions the students may have had pertaining to our city government and the problems Pacifica is facing as a city today.

Gust opened the discussion with an explanation of the operation of Pacifica's government, and how our city came into being.

According to Gust, Pacifica was first made a city in answer to the cries of residents who complained that the Westview area was being used as a dump by neighboring cities.

United in rebellion, the people rose up and incorporated the city of Pacifica in 1967. The city colors were made to be green and white, our flower, the fuchsia.

The city manager holds the major office in Pacifican government. He is elected by the five councilmen. The mayor is appointed from among the councilmen, who are elected by the people. The mayor is merely in an advisory position, and his announcements must agree with the decisions of the council and the city manager.

Gust also pointed out that Pacifica is unique, in that we've always had a woman on the city council.

Gust also entertained questions from the students present.

Why is there a lack of recreation in our city for youth?

1. Recreation facilities for Pacifican youth include a year round program for all ages, but there is no participation compared to all the crying there is about nothing to do. Sixty-five percent of enrolled grammar school students are participating in the program, but less than 25 per cent of high school kids. Gust expressed his interest in finding out why participation is so low.

2. No commercial recreation, like Drive-In Theaters, roller rinks, drive-in restaurants, etc., because no one is willing to invest money until they are sure there will be a good return.

3. There is a possibility of making a regional park of the area to the east of St. Peter's Catholic Church at the end of Linda Mar Boulevard. Also, there is hope that what is now the Coastside Corral will someday be a larger corral, with horses to rent, and frequent rodeos.

Why is there a lack of industry in Pacifica?

Gust said "we'd all love to see industry here," but for no particular reason, a lack of transportation, Pacifica has a long wait before it'll be able to have any.

Why isn't the Wander Inn open for teen-age activities?

The Wander Inn is getting a face-lift, including a new floor, repainting, a patio in back, etc.

"The work should have been completed a month ago," Gust said matter-of-factly, "but no one wants anything to do with the work detail." He said only a handful of kids have pitched in on Saturday afternoons to get it opened again, but it should be open in two to three weeks.

What about the Boy's Club? In answer to the question, "Where have all the donations gone?" Gust laughed, noting he had donated $500, "and I've been looking for where it went for two-and-a-half years."

He further said that Pacificans had an opportunity to make up to $9,000 with the premiere showing of Star, with Julie Andrews, but only a few people attended the performance.

His tone turned bitter when he added, "How do you build a Boys' Club without any money?"

Why don't we utilize our beaches? "First and foremost, because 95 per cent of them are privately owned, and we can't spend tax dollars on private property."

Fifty-five minutes was all too short a time to discuss all that there is to know about our city.

FIRE PROTECTION

SAN ANTONIO — Airman Edward Kaufmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kaufmann Sr. of 1175 Alicante Drive, Pacifica, has received his first U.S. Air Force duty assignment after completing basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. The airman has been assigned to Eglin AFB, Fla., for training and duty as a fire protection specialist. Airman Kaufmann is a graduate of Terra Nova High School.

THANKSGIVING DINING GUIDE

FOR DANCINGBRIGHT LIGHTS
BY
★ LLOYD JOHNSONRestaurant Menus Geared
For Thanksgiving Day

The calendar days are closing fast for the big day of feasting. This Thanksgiving will see one of the largest selections of dine out and fun establishments ever published on Bright Lights pages. No matter which restaurant, lounge, night spot or casino you choose to make your place of celebration, you're sure to enjoy a happy day. Many places are featuring entertainment in conjunction with a special Thanksgiving menu. Naturally, menus will feature "Mr. Turkey," the "bird of the day." Joe Cohen, the "Pilgrim of Bay Meadows Race Track," will have an 11:30 a.m. post time on Thanksgiving Day in order that followers of the Turf may avoid being a late "scratch" at dinner time. Bright Lights' staff extends very best wishes for a Thanksgiving that will reflect all the abundance of this prosperous land.

"YOU TAKE THE CAKE," said Mrs. Joseph Cohen to her hubby, Joe, president and general manager of Bay Meadows Race Track, who responded with a kiss. This happy scene took place in Cohen's office when celebrating his seventy-sixth natal year. Depicting the Bay Meadows Race Plant — from Jockey's Room to the new soil track, one of the most outstanding birthday cakes to ever grace a table was prepared and decorated by Daniel Hassett, a member of Adrian Stickney's Bakery Division. Over 200 guests were served cake and coffee for the gala occasion.

Peggy Lee, a gifted vocalist out of the North Dakota backwoods who sang with Benny Goodman's orchestra in the "Swing" era, is now appearing in the Las Vegas Rivera Hotel's Versailles Room, where she will share the spotlight with pianist Peter Nero through December 7. A Capitol recording star since 1944, Peggy has collected her share of million-selling gold discs ranging from "Fever" and "Why Don't You Do Right?" to "Lover." "For Love of Ivy," a new romantic comedy starring Sidney Poitier, opened a two-week engagement at Hotel Sahara-Tahoe, home of the world's most revolutionary motion picture theater. Patrons can dine, drink and smoke while watching this roadshow motion picture in the comfortable 1,200-seat High Sierra Theater. Admission is $2; dinner and drinks are not compulsory. Dinner from a varied menu, is $1.50 and drinks are sold at regular prices.

Recording Artist John Gary will head up a one-night concert at San Francisco's Masonic Auditorium Friday, December 6, at 8:30 p.m. Co-starring with Gary will be the John Price Quartet. Family style dinners are served seven nights a week at Yolanda's Terminal Cafe in South San Francisco. In addition to soup, salad and pasta, two entrees are always offered. Only four more weeks remain for this year's weekly dance contest at the Hilton Inn's Tiger Room, San Francisco International Airport. So hustle yourselves out to the Tiger Room Wednesday nights and try to win $25 cash and the chance to compete for the grand prize — a free weekend at the new El Mirador Hilton in Palm Springs. Last week's winners were Jeanie Turner and Gary Oliver, both of San Francisco. A sizzling Top Sirloin Steak is only $1.39 at Hillsdale's Sizzler Steak House. On Monday night, which is Family Night, the same steak is priced at only $1.09; children dine at half price.

JUST BEFORE leaving for New York and the National Convention of Hotel Sales Management Association, Steve Norton, director of sales at the Villa Hotel, breezed in for a chat on Peninsula news. Steve is an officer in the Northern California Chapter of the H.S.M.A. and the "spark" of the Villa Hotel's promotional staff. Contact Gil Townsend if you or your group would like tickets for the Cameo Theater's newest production "Deuces Wild" or "Which Twin has the Toby?" Regular prices for adults are only $2. Even better prices for interested group ticket-buyers on the Peninsula. Mention the Belmont Chuck Wagon to any local lover of good life, and you're sure to get a positive response. This fine restaurant has maintained a level of excellence in cuisine and service that few dining establishments can match. If you haven't yet tried one of their delicious prime rib dinners, you're missing one of the Bay Area's most delightful dining experiences.

FOR DANCINGNite Life's Big Eighth
Anniversary Bonus Gift

It was just eight years ago that Milt Harper founded his Nite Life company in San Francisco. Starting with a dinner book listing 21 restaurants, the Nite Life program entitled a customer to 21 free dinners. Today, over 200 establishments offer discounts and free dinners to Nite Life members. Membership books include theaters, sporting events, hotels, special events, restaurants, where they receive a free meal or a free admission with the purchase of one-of-a-kind value. In celebration of their eighth anniversary, Nite Life is giving all new customers two special bonuses with each membership purchased. First, a Hawaiian Vacation for two persons, which includes free hotel accommodations for four days and three nights in Hawaii. Members have their choice of the many fabulous hotels located in the center of Waikiki Beach. Second bonus is a Free Las Vegas Holiday for two persons, and includes free hotel lodging right on the famous Las Vegas Strip for three days and two nights. Each membership ordered receives both the Hawaiian and Las Vegas certificates.

"TURKEY TROT" — Peter Maglaras displays a bit of pre-Thanksgiving dancing talent at the Balkan Village. This Palo Alto restaurant is one of the most popular on the Peninsula and a fun spot for all ages.

The nightly action at Phil Maita's Fireside Lounge now includes topless and bottomless nudes, with an array of curvy gals providing the eye-appealing performances. Fashion shows are also presented nightly, as the great Sam the Man and his Band play music for the nude antics. Billy "Old Black Magic" Daniels is in a nine-day stay at Bimbo's 365 Theater Restaurant. With Daniels are country and western singers Guy and David. Bimbo's will open an hour earlier (at 5 p.m.) on Thanksgiving Day to accommodate diners. A special turkey dinner will be served. Dancing to Dick Foy's nine-piece orchestra. Still musical favorites at Millbrae's Blue Peacock are the Fabulous Romanos, who perform every Friday and Saturday night. Opening soon at the San Mateo Broadwalk will be "Miss Texas," who has been a sensation at Bob Colonna's Broadwalk in Fresno. She is expected to headline here until after the first of the year.

Phil Maita

Tom Zucchi and Bruno Fava are the two enterprising owners behind the success of Bruno's of San Mateo. Tom has so many friends from his days as a restaurant owner in San Francisco, Bruno's is sometimes called the "Butcher's town of the Peninsula." Bob Shane, formerly of the Kingston Trio, and Friends premiered their new group Monday evening at the Palo Alto Cabana, for a six-night engagement in Nero's Nook. Shane's latest single record, "Honey," was a big seller on Decca. The group returns to the Cabana February 3 through February 15. Due to be completed by the Christmas holidays is the new dining room at Bertolucci's in South San Francisco. Not only will it be elegant, but it will considerably enhance the restaurant's seating capacity. The Robert A. Radcliff's (he's an executive with Roos-Atkins) held their wedding reception in the Executive dining room at Lew Lehr's in San Francisco's Marina.

Tom Zucchi

The "Loch Ness Monster" is a potent drink specialty at Scotty Campbell's, reports petite Mary Lou Francis. The original recipe was passed down to Scotty Campbell from his great great grandfather. Only two to a customer. San Francisco's elegant Leaning Tower restaurant is opening on a seven - nights - a - week basis around the first of the year, when the Ercoli brothers also expect their new restaurant addition to be completed. Delicious soups are always the order of the day at Dave Rasmussen's Shadows of San Mateo. All are "prepared to travel." Woodside's Golden Steer specializes in USDA Choice steak, with prices starting at $2.95. For groups of 25 or more, the Skylark restaurant will offer special banquet prices. Contact Laura Bell for further information. Fred Martinelli is still scheming over future plans for a banquet addition to his Oliver's restaurant in South San Francisco. Sultry Ty Pay presides at the pianobar at Sebastian's of Belmont six nights a week. A roast beef sandwich for 69 cents is the item that made Tad's of San Carlos famous in the local restaurant world.

THANKSGIVING • 1968

THE THANKSGIVING DAY is an American tradition. The early observances were humble, yet serious affairs, in keeping with the many problems faced by our founders.

This THANKSGIVING DAY of 1968 has a special significance for us all because of the outcome of our recent elections.

The people have chosen their LEADER for the next four years in the good tradition of fair play. Today, with America and the world full of grave problems, we should return to the humble and serious observance of THANKSGIVING DAY, with sincere thanks and HOPE. We, as true Americans, will stand united behind our PRESIDENT-ELECT. He has the fortitude, desire, and intelligence to guide our nation to greater heights.

We at OMAR KHAYYAM'S extend our hearts in humility and gratitude for all the blessings of America, and pray that ALMIGHTY GOD will show us the way to LAW and ORDER, respect toward each other, and assurance that this is still the LAND OF THE FREE and the LAND OF OPPORTUNITY.

Always gratefully yours,

George Mardikian

Dell' Osso's Opening
Set for Dec. 2, 3, 4, 5

One of the grandest of grand openings will take place December 2, 3, 4 and 5 when Dell'Osso's restaurant opens its doors to the sophisticated dine-out public — and it will certainly take the four days, plus many more, for Vincent Dell'Osso, prominent Peninsula restaurateur, to greet his countless friends and endless new acquaintances. Dell'Osso's, located at Ninth Avenue and South Claremont in San Mateo, is a Continental show place, with outstanding features in decor, comfortable seating, back-dropped with spacious surroundings — complete with special custom built-in kitchens. The smartest restaurants in America and Europe were copied and improved upon by veteran restaurateur Vincent Dell'Osso — thereby, making this one of the most unique restaurants in California. Dinner will be served in the Mediterranean tradition; two luxurious dining rooms, pianobar in the smart cocktail lounge, acres of free parking. Reservations, 342-6336.

Dell'Osso

"CHECKING IN" — Charo, peppery singer-wife of Xavier Cugat, and her Chihuahua check in at her answering service during their recent San Francisco engagement at Bimbo's 365 Theater Restaurant. She and Cugie attended the open house at the new Answering Bureau in San Francisco.

Now providing the smooth dance sounds at Ron Giannotti's Surf House is the George Cerruti Trio. Well known to Peninsula audiences, the trio entertains Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights from 9 p.m. ... Business can be described as "sensational" at the South San Francisco Holiday Inn's recently opened Barber Shop. It's all part of the Rapp Brother's major expansion program, which also includes an 80-room addition. Nine different banquet rooms, including the magnificent Winchester Room, are at your banquet disposal at Emerson Murfee's Villa Chartier. According to the size of your group, any one of the rooms would be perfect for a holiday gathering. $6 in cash, a $1 breakfast and three cocktails are available on arrival seven days a week when you let Park Avenue Tours arrange your driving trip to South Lake Tahoe. Whether it's an overnight or two-night stay, you're certain to save money when contacting Park Avenue Tours. ...

George Cerruti

FUNFEST — Jack Bedient and The Chessmen bring their infectious hand-clapping, feet-stomping brand of music and song to the Fun Room of Harolds Club, Reno. Part of any Chessmen show is what happens in the audience. Taf Arnold and his wry humor is the supporting act, plus the music of Don Conn continue a sensational engagement through December 9.

Now providing live music on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at Hi Fi Room South are the Sun Flowers, another in a long line of discoveries by lounge owners Joe Borges and Ben Muniz. Still performing on Sunday evening is the smooth sounding Jimmy Little Trio. ... Larry Vale, who is Francis Blair's new partner in the "Two Old Bags From Oakland" comedy act at Finocchio's, is constantly being amazed when told by fans that they've seen him in European nightclubs. Vale performed all over Europe for eight years, and in 19 different countries. Blair also has many years in vaudeville and nightclubs to his own credit. ... Name dropers: Seen enjoying themselves at the Embers, Redwood City, were Dan Biagi and his stunning wife, Enola, who dropped by to hear the Entertainment Committee, direct from smash performances in Las Vegas. ... Pert Jo Ann Rowe is a featured vocalist with the Al Cava Combo, which is currently appearing at Millbrae's Thunderbolt Hotel. ...

THANKSGIVING DINING GUIDE

Balkan Village Boss Big In "Zorba the Greek"

"Zorba the Greek," a new play on Broadway, opened to rave reviews. Louis Gundunas, partner at the Balkan Village, does his famous tavern dances in the show. His wife, Peggy, and their four children are in New York to share his triumph. Meanwhile at the Balkan Village, a fabulous program of Greek dances and music are attracting crowds to the restaurant... The Black Angus "Wagon Master" again reminds you that their famous "all you can eat" chuckwagon now offers barbequed spareribs on a daily basis... Terrell Prude, former backup musician with Ray Charles, will head up the lounge entertainment at the Fork 'n' Cork restaurant the weekend after Thanksgiving. Nightly performances scheduled Tuesday through Saturday... The Golden Pavilion, ranked by many food authorities as one of the outstanding Chinese restaurants in the Western Hemisphere, is now open on El Camino in Los Altos. Throngs of visitors poured through the immense and unique Moon Gate and dined in the beautiful Hall of the Eight Immortals....

Louis Gundunas

One of the favorite restaurateurs on the Peninsula is the New Southern's Reno Donati, who personally meets and greets patrons at his bustling South San Francisco restaurant... Steak dinners at Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco really go for a dessert — Phil's Black Cherry Cheesecake (brandy) flamed at your table)... If you happen to be in a seafaring mood and think that a nautical cruise would do you doos, journey over to Nick Gust's fabulous Moonraker in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, where the "living is easy"... Taste tip from Rudolfo's, Palo Alto: Shish Kebob, Hawaiian-style. Ask Art Alfinito to prepare it rare, medium rare or well, to your taste. Meanwhile, help yourself to the bottomless salad bowl, with choice of dressing. Economical and delicious... Foster's across from Hillsdale is now featuring a special $1 breakfast which includes slices of hickory smoked bacon, a large ranch egg, three buttermilk-pancakes and coffee. It's ideal for early morning commuters....

Daly City's Tenth Benefit Bowl Set

The Tenth Annual Daly City Police Athletic League Benefit Bowling Tournament will open with a Kickoff Squad at 10:30 a.m. Thanksgiving Day, November 28.

As in past years, Chief of Police Roland Petrocchi will roll the first ball to officially open the tournament.

Since the start of the tournament shortly after the opening of Westlake Bowl, over $45,000 in merchandise has been awarded to the many bowlers who have "helped build better boys" by participating in the tournament.

Jim Grealish, manager of the Westlake Bowl, will serve as chairman of this year's committee. Members of the committee will be on hand each day to take care of those bowlers who wish to aid the youth programs of Daly City.

Bowlers may compete either on an open play basis or while competing in league competition.

Groups may make reservations by calling the alley. For groups of twenty or more, special prizes will be awarded.

City Manager Permanent In Brisbane

Bruce A. Altman, temporary city manager in Brisbane for the past six months, was appointed to the post on a permanent basis last week, Mayor John Bell announced.

Altman, former manager for the City of Newark, was selected from a list of "several qualified candidates" for the job last week, according to Bell.

He was named to the post on a temporary basis June 14, after councilmen voted to dismiss former manager Lanier S. Brady.

Altman has nine years' experience in city government, Bell said, including a stint as assistant manager for the City of Claremont.

He is a graduate of Arizona State University with a degree in public administration, and has undertaken "extensive graduate work" at the University of Southern California. Altman is currently attending law school on a part time basis.

He and his wife, Barbara, have two sons.

In addition to the manager's appointment, councilmen named Clarence Cook to fill the position of city treasurer and Kenneth M. Cook was appointed deputy city treasurer last week.

Cook is a computer systems analyst in insurance and banking, Cook regional manager for a freight forwarding firm with offices in Burlingame.

Unsolicited Smut in Mails: No Way to Halt It!

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Unsolicited filth is pouring into Bay Area homes through the mails at what officials claim is an alarming rate.

And there apparently isn't anything they can do about it.

Shortly after an irate Daly City mother of two teen-aged children informed this newspaper she had received several fliers in the mail outlining, in explicit detail, assorted (and sordid) "sex techniques," postal authorities were contacted.

Postmaster Vince Murphy of Daly City, a 33 year veteran with the post office, confessed he and others in the government were "highly disturbed" by the material now flying freely through the mail, "but there isn't an awful lot we can do about it."

Murphy handed over Post Office Department publication 123, entitled "How You Can Curb Pandering Advertisements." The publication is a carefully worded three page pamphlet with a form on the fourth page.

The publication explains the new Federal law dealing with offensive material (or what the recipient thinks is offensive); purpose of the law; how it works, and, enforcing the law.

It also describes "pandering advertisements" as those which are considered to "eratically arouse or sexually provoke" persons.

In short: if a person receives what he or she thinks is pornography through the U.S. mails, a form is filled out and presented to the Post Office. If the "pandering advertisements" continue (from the same firm) they are again asked to cease mailing such material to the person. And if it still continues, the Postmaster General will ask the Attorney General to apply for a Federal Court order directing compliance with your instructions.

If the order is continually ignored, the sender could be imprisoned and fined.

Meanwhile, the filth keeps flowing into homes.

Here's how the mother of two teen-agers likely "qualified" for the mailing list.

Her son sent away for a comic book premium item several months ago -- to a New York City firm. It is now the custom to either swap or sell names and addresses of persons subscribing to any sort of publications. There are all sorts of "lists," including lists of people buying publications; lists of those sending away for catalogs, and on and on.

Apparently, the 14 year old's name was on a list sold recently to the publisher in question. The material followed.

"Can you imagine this sort of thing in the hands of a 14 year old?" the mother asked. "It can do him irreparable harm... it could upset anyone."

As a "bonus" feature the New York peddler offers (for only $5) a book titled "Pedophilia." The latter is "Brand New Illustrated Study of Adult Sex Acts With Children."

Murphy said the Postal Inspectors have been "knocking themselves out" trying to curb this sort of use of the mails. As recently as last year, after months of exhausting work gathering evidence against a New York smut peddler, the courts threw out the case and the peddler was back in business bigger than ever.

Many blame the present plight on "our broadminded society," a society that now uses phrase "What might be pornography to you, isn't to another."

Undoubtedly, this has been a guide to the courts. Every decision dealing with the subject has favored the publisher or the peddler.

The decisions have tied the hands of law enforcement agencies, both civil and federal, an unidentified Postal Inspector revealed.

"They're not happy about it, but there seems little we can do," he said.

Meanwhile, that box by the door which was once the subject of song and the holder of greeting cards at Christmas, is fast becoming a receptacle for unwanted filth.

In a Shifting Wind...

JUST FOLLOW YOUR NOSE — Ever try to enjoy the out-of-doors around the west slope of San Bruno Mountain (namely the Cypress Hills Golf Course) when the wind changes? And exactly WHAT is supervisor Bob St. Clair doing about that pig farm? The odor from those swine is followed closely by the dust from all that dumping.

LATEST CAR KICK is for auto crooks to push stolen vehicles off the west face of San Bruno Mt. It isn't bad enough the punks steal a car, they have to smash it to pieces. Sick, sick.

AND ON THIS SUBJECT, the dumbest commercial on the telly is the one that pleads: "Don't leave your keys in the car — don't help a GOOD boy go wrong." Ya may not believe this folks, but when I was a kid GOOD boys didn't steal cars.

HEY, TODAY'S THANKSGIVING. We have a lot to be thankful for and we know of 107 others who are even more thankful they'll be around to carve the turkey — they were aboard that Japan Airlines plane that went for a swim in the bay the other a.m.

NEW GRANDPARENTS — It really isn't news when someone becomes a grandfather for the first time, unless you happen to be talking to Daly City councilman Edward J. Dennis or his Missus. Then out comes the photos and you can figure on having your ear bent for upwards of an hour. The arrival was born on October 3 at Brookes Army Hospital in San Antonio. Garth Dennis and his mother, Carmen (who happens to be a Major in the US Army Medical Corp) are both doing just fine.

WOULD YOU REPEAT THAT JUDGE? — Muni judge Paul Hupf was fit to be (Tongue) tied the other day when a young Tonganese boy was hauled before the bench on a shoplifting rap. It seems the South Pacific islander couldn't speak or understand English and his hizzoner had trouble informing him of his rights. After several unsuccessful attempts to communicate with the lad, Hupf recessed the court and started a search for someone who could speak the language. (Here's the article.) They found not one — BUT THREE — people in the shadow of the courthouse who spoke Tonganese.

WE SAW 'EM LAST — The Smothers Brothers (without their Mother) dropped by Compton's Restaurant in the Westlake Shopping Center along with unsuccessful presidential candidate Pat Paulson for lunch. There hasn't been that much scrambling for tables in we don't know how long. The mystery (if there is one) is WHY were the Smothers Brothers (without their Mother) and Paulsen in the area? Why did they smile at the people, instead of frowning like they always do on the telly? Why? (For those correctly answering these questions a free second cup of coffee will be presented — at Compton's).

COURTHOUSE PROCEEDINGS — Daly City muni judge Charles Becker has his days in court just like anybody else. Take the other day, for instance. In comes a long-haired and bearded motorcycle type who looked and smelled so bad the judge tossed him out of court and told him to come back when he had bathed. Three days later in walks the same fellow, wearing the same filthy clothes — but he had bathed he told the judge. "Off the record don't you feel... well... better since you washed your face?" Becker inquired. "To tell the truth Judge, no! Some people are clean outside, but dirty inside. I'm the opposite, Judge." Hmmm.

IT COULDN'T HAPPEN, BUT IT DID! At the Westlake Merchants party at the T-Bolt the other p.m. Two women wearing identical dresses (the second year such a thing has happened at the dinner dance) BUT BOTH LOOKING JUST LOVELY.

CIVIC MINDED SECTION — Daly City police were given a big boost last week during their search for a suspected rapist. After a sketch drawn by one of the victims appeared in this paper, police received numerous phone calls "tipping" them off. In the past, the Good Citizens turned a deaf ear to police pleas for support. Things appear to be changing for the better.

A P.S. TO THE STORY — The woman-icist who drew the likeness wasn't around for the finale! It seems she is visiting in Little Old New York.

THE GREATEST SANDBAGGER — KNBR's Frank Dill (The originator of Sandbaggers Anonymous) is the greatest sandbagger of them all! During the recent strike at the teevee studio Dill works at as an evening sportscaster, he found sufficient time to take a few lessons from the pro at Peacock Gap. After trimming his handicap down, the enterprising Dill picked some of his ex-friends into playing a round or two with him. It would be cruel to continue. Suffice it to say that by the time the strike ended Dill made two stops: one at the bank and the other at the studio.

THAT WAS THE NIGHT THAT WAS — Dancing 'til early morn. Good chow. And music you could hold your wife or gal and dance by. (Tell the truth, how long has it been since you could do THAT?) Arrangements by Sal Carson with warbles by lovely songstress Sylvia Gaylord. We must be getting old because some of those tunes were "Ohr Songs."

Man With a Smile

Phil Silvers, the man with a smile as wide and bright as a theatre marquee on premiere night, wasn't kidding last week when he told us over breakfast at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel that he needs work.

He'd just completed "Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell," for United Artists, playing Shelley Winters' husband in one of the best serio-comic roles he's ever done. But jobs have been few and far between for the former headliner of burlesque, vaudeville, films and television. And there was a sad note to his account of those good old days when he was a big spender, a big gambler and a big star.

"I'm never considered by new serious producers for films nowadays. They feel I have to strong a comic image to overcome. Let's face it, my best years were the doubtful ones when I had a horizon to look to."

"When I was in the big money, I never invested or formed my own producing company. I'm not very enterprising and not a good businessman," he continued.

SILVERS CONFESSED HE'D BEEN a "compulsive gambler all his life, but now has five kids to support and can't handle credit anymore."

"I'd bet you my eyes if I thought the price was right. I had to quit but in the lush days I could make a sizeable bet anywhere in the country by picking up the telephone."

Tracing back the circumstances that preceded his downfall, he reminisced, "It all started in Hollywood after I was signed by Louis B. Mayer personally when he saw me perform with Buddy Ebsen in the Broadway play, 'Yokel Boy.' That was in 1939 and the following day I was signed by MGM at more money than I'd ever heard of, $550 a week. The studio people resented me because the boss discovered me, there were jealousies and I couldn't get past the front gate without a pass."

TO OVERCOME THEIR HOSTILITY, Silvers took to throwing big parties to draw attention to himself. When that lost its punch, he became a heavy gambler, moving in expensive circles with the top stars.

"It sounds stupid, I know. But you do stupid things when you're scared. I'm properly frightened now. I can play the clubs in Las Vegas without betting. Believe me, I'm cured but I need to work."

What Students Like

AT LAST, a survey to determine the influence of reading on adolescents. High school students were asked to report any changes in their concepts, attitudes, and behavior that they had noted as a result of reading.

Most students reported positive or beneficial influences from reading; however a few reported that they had been influenced by at least one book in an undesirable, antisocial way.

Thirty per cent of the students said that they had experienced a change in their self-image. Twenty per cent experienced a change in their philosophy of life. Seventeen per cent saw a change in their attitudes toward groups in society (Negroes, Mexicans, etc.).

Only 5.9 per cent noted an influence on their patriotism of their understanding of political problems. Ten per cent said their reading had influenced their thinking on social problems, while nine per cent declared that their sensitivity to people had been changed.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that "Black Like Me", John Howard Griffin's account of his experiences when he posed as a Negro, was mentioned as an influential book by more students than any other.

The "Bible" was second. "To Kill a Mocking Bird", "Exodus", "The Good Earth", "Catcher in the Rye", "The Ugly American", "Animal Farm", "Lord of the Flies", and "Grapes of Wrath" were the other books most often named.

Of "Black Like Me" the students ech-ed the words of one who wrote, "This book opened my eyes to the injustice and misery everywhere and made me want to do something about it."

Of the "Bible" a student said, "Late-ly I have felt that I needed something to live for. I felt that my life didn't mean much and that I might change that. I think this book gives the reason to live."

"Catcher in the Rye" by J. D. Salinger seems to have changed many of the students image of themselves. Most of those mentioning it reported that it improved that image. Some, however, agreed with a girl who reported she felt that "all good ethics seemed to be completely disregarded."

SEVERAL STUDENTS warned their friends to not read "Candy". Two students reacted negatively to "Peyton Place". One of them wrote that it is "just a book to arouse sex behavior."

The article that reports the survey may be found in the November issue of Wilson's Library Journal. The author is Fehl Shirley, associate professor of education at Wisconsin State University.

Of the study she writes, "Although we have hardly begun to measure the effect of an author upon his reader, it believed that an author read with enthusiasm may change the very fabric of the reader."

"If reading influences a reader's self-image," she writes, "then information on the effect of different kinds of reading material on individuals should be helpful in achieving better personal development through reading."

Let Agent Sell It

QUESTION: Do I need a license to sell my home?

ANSWER: No, you may act as your own real estate agent. However, it is often against the individual's best interests to do so. The realtor's knowledge of values and markets and his ability to negotiate on the seller's behalf assures the seller of a fair price for his property. Also, a realtor will facilitate a quicker sale and protect his customer's personal interests.

QUESTION: My wife and I are a bit hesitant about accepting a "free vacation" certificate for three nights and four days in Las Vegas. What would you advise us to do?

ANSWER: Many business firms use "vacation certificates" as a business incentive. This type of program is either a lead into attempts to sell goods locally, or there will be attempts to sell lots. According to the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce, there were three separate certificates being circulated at one time and not one bona fide. Recipients should realize they have not "won" a trip, since only a certificate for room is provided.

QUESTION: You talk about bait and switch all the time. How do I know when I am getting the treatment?

ANSWER: Watch out for the salesman who makes derogatory remarks about the merchandise advertised. Also, beware if he makes no effort to sell the item or "doesn't have the advertised merchandise in stock but has something better to sell." All these are generally reliable signs that the advertised item is "bait" and the salesman is trying to "switch" you to a higher priced item.

COUNTY-WIDE YOUTH COMMISSION

Lack of Communication Hit

"A lot of the kids think of the Sheriff and the Board of Supervisors as their personal enemies. There's nothing going on—no communication."

That was a sample of the frank kind of communicating that got going Thursday at the first meeting of the proposed countywide Youth Commission.

Presiding was Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, Board chairman, who did a neat job of sliding out of the chair once the dialogue with the kids was under way.

In the room were young adults from each high school on the County—34 in all—and before the meeting was over, they had decided:

—that a youth commission is needed.

—that a rock concert at the Fairgrounds was a good idea for starters.

—that if they undertook such a major event, they would like to see the funds go to some meaningful program such as a clinic for kids who want to stop "turning on" or taking drugs.

—they would insist on policing such an event themselves.

—to join committees on recreation, drugs, juvenile crime, human relations, and organization.

—to meet again Friday, December 13 at 10 a. m. in the board office of the Fairgrounds.

They decided that while drugs and involvement in meaningful activity are major youth problems, that dealing with authority, the establishment: school, parents, government, was another.

"Kids feel powerless and that they are being manipulated. All they want is a share of the action," commented one representative.

"The adult generation is so caught up in the things they dug when they were kids, they can't see this generation's point of view," said another.

In the discussion on drug usage, opinions ranged from:

"Kids resort to these things because they're completely bored—there's nothing to do, no place for us to go," and "they do it because everyone else is doing it. Start wearing baggy pants to school and everyone else will, too."

Others felt strongly that decisions about drug use—to start and to quit—were individual decisions and had nothing to do with boredom or current fads.

There was a brief exchange with Capt. Herb Elvander of the Sheriff's office regarding the treatment a youngster would receive if he turned in drugs to that department. Would he be harassed, would he be prosecuted, would he risk a record, would he be "busted" as the expression goes?

That led to the need for a neutral clinic where drug users could seek help if they wanted to quit the habit and get some moral support.

Chief Probation Officer Loren Beckley proposed that the group send youth advisors to meet regularly with all County Boards and Commissions.

Other adults present included Richard Hazel, County juvenile delinquency prevention officer, and school counselors Floyd Gonnella, DeGroot Platte, and Lance Lipscomb.

Chairmen of the committees are as follows: Steve Feilner, Half Moon Bay, Connie Davis, Oceana, recreation committee; Frank Cava, Mills, and Paul Worsley, Woodside, drugs committee; Kevin Earnshaw, Peninsula, crime committee; Tim Reed, Aragon, and Mike Jones, Serra Monte, human relations committee; and Nicolas De Lancie, San Mateo, organization committee.

Jeanne Rudiger of Pescadero High School was appointed secretary to the group.

Other representatives include: James Eswein, Burlingame; Peter Verity, Capuchino; Michael Lair, Crestmoor; Guy Ol-ing, Hillsdale; Richard Jasso, Terra Nova; Tony Moss and Madlyn Norman, Jefferson; Steve Woodyard, Thornton; Barry Nienstadt, Westmoor; Steven Armstrong, Carlmont; Conrad Everhardt, Menlo-Atherton; Kathleen Breyer, San Carlos; Joe Halsey, Sequoia; Lorraine Mitchell, Jose Bernal, and Steve Potuba, South San Francisco; Thomas Buckley and Lawrence Mallarino, El Camino; Bonnie Carroll, Angie Muniz, Mary A. Robertazzi, and Robert Zilm, Half Moon Bay; and Dina Olsen, John E. Lindley, and Manuel Sousa, Pescadero.

Others present were Carol Iwaoka and Kathy Dinga of San Mateo.

LOUANNE HEATH'S DATEBOOK

Season to Be Thankful

IT'S THE SEASON to be thankful once again, and it is a certainty that the ladies of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild are especially thankful for the tremendous success of their annual Boutique de Noel held last weekend in the hospital solarium and lobby.

The sale was officially launched with a Champagne Preview on Thursday evening with a capacity crowd in the solarium following which the "salesladies" set up shop in the hospital lobby for Friday and Saturday shoppers.

Among the lovely ladies manning the counters and helping the shoppers was lovely young Sue Falconi, home from college for the holiday and pressed into service by her mom, one of the guild's loyal volunteers.

WITH ONE HOLIDAY just a day away it is time to start marking down the important events that will be attending the Christmas season.

Starting off December with a bang are the members of the Holy Angel's Mothers Club.

Mrs. William Holland, publicity chairman, reports that the annual parish Christmas Food Sale will be held this Sunday from 8 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. in the parish hall.

Mrs. John Martyn is the chairman of the sale and she is assisted by Mrs. Gerald Delfino, the co-chairman, and the members of the food sale committee.

Featured will be cakes, cookies and candies for Christmas nibbling and some charming home decorations that may be eaten by hungry guests or which can be served up simply to feast one's eyes upon.

Many of the items will be especially designed to save for Christmas but others you may enjoy sampling immediately so, for planning ahead, or for dessert Sunday dinner, plan to visit the sale.

For those who would enjoy a light breakfast while shopping, Mrs. Holland indicates that coffee, donuts and hot chocolate will be served throughout the morning.

The proceeds of the sale will be used for scholarships.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, the volunteers of the North County Mental Health Center, 45 Southgate Avenue in Daly City, will sponsor a private preview and auction, gallery art for everyone.

Carter B. Smith of KSFO radio will be the auctioneer. Proceeds from the sale of paintings will be used to benefit the volunteer activities of the center.

DECEMBER 17 the Vista Mar P-TA will present a holiday goodie sale in the Multi-Use room of the Vista Mar School immediately following the annual Christmas Program.

The sale will feature cakes, candy, cookies, popcorn and grab bags guaranteed to please all purchasers.

THE JOYFUL AND TRIUMPHANT, a program featuring the traditional sights and sounds of Christmas is being presented on December 14, 20 and 21 in the Scottish Rite Auditorium on Nineteenth Avenue in San Francisco.

The Paul Weaver Chorus and Orchestra will present the musical tribute to the birth of Christ. Also on the program will be the Song-weavers, Phil and Marlene Dunaway, David Flagg and TV's Wanda Ramey.

Tickets and information are available at the Downtown Center, 325 Mason Street, San Francisco.

THE DECEMBER MEETING of the Ignatius Guild will be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of St. Ignatius High School, according to Westlake's Mrs. Theodore Martin, the guild's publicity chairman.

Christmas music will be presented by the Saint Ignatius Band and Choral Club.

Mrs. Eugene Marty, co-chairman of this month's Silent Auction and cocktail party, will give a report on the success of that event.

IT MAY SEEM a little early to be mentioning New Years but if you are a member or a friend of the Pacifica Fifty Plus Club it is time to make your reservations for the New Years Eve outing planned by the club's executive board.

Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburg of Pacifica is taking the calls for reservations which will ensure members of a holiday visit to three night clubs and the Hilton Hotel on the Big Night as well as lodging at the Grant Hotel on Bush Street.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN MADROSEN of Westlake are home again after a brief holiday in Fort Bragg.

Teen Council

Holds First

Band Battle

The Oceana Teen Council, sponsored by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation Department, held its first band battle of the year last night at the Oceana Gym.

Terra Nova Co-Rec will not be held tonight because it is Thanksgiving. However, it will resume on December 5 with a surprise band.

The theme was "Sock it to me" at the annual J-Teen Volleyball Tournament. The Tournament was termed a "big success," mainly because of team and school spirit.

Schools represented included Oddstad, Crespi, Cabrillo, Linda Mar, Fairmont, and Sharp Park.

The Volleyball Champion is Sharp Park School, which defeated powerful Fairmont School. The Championship team members included Morgan Lee, Peggy Culvas, Jim Culvas, Mark Alls, and Christine Christopher. The sportsmanship trophy was awarded to Fairmont School, led by Debbie Patsel.

The J-Teen Council's new officers are:

President, Colleen Castro; vice president, Nancy Tomlinson; secretary, DeDe Vernon; treasurer, Debbie Pool; sergeant-at-arms, Mike Turner.

The next J-Teen activity will be a band battle at Crespi School December 6 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Fee for the evening will be $1.75.

Fruit Cake Season

Good morning, good cooks.

Today is Thanksgiving and I hope it is the happiest of days for you with those you love gathered to share its blessings.

When Thanksgiving comes, can Christmas be far behind? Most of our Christmas baking will be done in the last two weeks before that happy day but the fruitcakes that grace our tables must be made now. For fruitcakes require weeks of aging in order to bring them to the mellow goodness for Christmas slicing and serving.

Just as people have strong feelings about light and dark meat so there are those who bake only light cakes or only dark cakes. Fortunately for me my family likes both, so I bake both. This first recipe I'll share with you is a dark, dark gem and will please those who like 'em dark and spicy.

DARK FRUIT CAKE

- 6 eggs, extra large, separated
- 1/2 lb. butter
- 2 cups sugar
- one-third cup orange juice
- 1 lb. currants
- 2 boxes, 15 oz. raisins, seeded
- 1 lb. mixed candied fruits
- 1 6-oz. pkg. figs chopped
- 1 bottle maraschino cherries, 4 oz.
- 1 cup dark molasses
- 1/2 teaspoon soda, mixed in 1 teaspoon water
- 1 cup whiskey
- 4 cups flour, plus 1/2 cup for dredging fruits
- 1 1/2 cups walnuts, coarsely chopped
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon allspice
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves

Prepare pans.

Cut up and prepare fruits. Combine the one pound currants, two boxes raisins, one pound mixed candied fruits, one box figs and 1 1/2 cups nuts in a large bowl. Sprinkle with the 1/2 cup of flour and mix lightly.

Cream the one-half pound butter with the two cups sugar. Add the one third cup orange juice and 12 maraschino cherries (cut-up) and 1/4 cup cherry juice. Mix thoroughly. Beat the 6 egg yolks and blend into the creamed mixture.

Sift together the 4 cups flour, one teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg, one-half teaspoon each allspice and cloves.

Combine the one cup molasses, one cup whiskey and the one-half teaspoon soda which has been mixed in the one teaspoon water. Add this to the creamed mixture alternately with the dry ingredients. Fold in the prepared fruits and lastly fold in the 6 stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour into large 10-inch tube pan. Bake in 275-degree oven 3 hours. Or until cake tests done in center.

LET'S PAUSE HERE and talk a little about making fruit cakes. The first and most obvious thing about fruitcake is that it isn't an inexpensive variety of cake, secondly, it doesn't fall into the quick and easy method of cake making and baking. But it's so good it's worth every extra spent in money and time.

Since fruit cake takes a long time to bake we must add protection to keep it from burning and sticking to the pan. So we grease the pan and the peppers with which we line the pan. Heavy brown wrapping paper is great for lining, cut and grease the pan and the papers with which we line the pan. you are wise to get the pans lined and ready before you start mixing your fruits.

If you place a shallow pan of water in the bottom of the oven it will give your cake a nice shiny top as it bakes.

LIGHT FRUIT CAKE

- 2 cups flour
- 1 1/2 cups golden raisins
- 1 1/2 cups candied cherries, whole
- 1/4 cup citron
- 3/4 cups walnut, halves
- 3/4 cup blanched almonds, split
- 1 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 5 eggs well beaten
- 1 teaspoon lemon flavoring
- 1 teaspoon rum flavoring

Sift the two cups flour into a large bowl, add the one and one-half cups each golden raisins and candied cherries, the three-fourths cup citron sliced, three-fourths cups each walnuts and almonds. Stir to coat fruit. Blend the one cup shortening and one cup sugar and then cream well. Add the five well-beaten eggs and the teaspoon lemon and teaspoon rum flavoring. Add the flour fruit mixture to the creamed mixture gradually, stirring to blend well.

Pour into 9-inch tube pan which has been well greased and lined with greased brown paper. Bake in slow oven (250-degrees) about three hours, placing a pan with hot water on bottom of oven.

Cake is done when it feels firm on top and pulls away from sides of pan. Cool completely on rack before removing from pan.

To store wrap in cheesecloth wrung out in brandy or whiskey. Then wrap cake in foil or place in plastic bag. Store in cool dry place.

FOR MRS. CULLEN in Daly City who had written requesting a fruit cake that doesn't call for candied fruit, this Poorman's Fruit Cake is a delicious and easy cake to bake.

- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 2 cups raisins
- 2 cups chopped nuts

Patricia Moynihan Wed To Michael E. Costello

St. Robert's Catholic Church in San Bruno was the setting for the recent marriage of Patricia Lynn Moynihan and Michael Edward Costello.

The Rev. William Keenan, a friend of the bride's family, officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Elks' Lodge in South San Francisco. The party was hosted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Moynihan of San Bruno. Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Costello, also of San Bruno.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Patricia recited her vows in a white satin faille gown with a high Camelot collar and yoke detailed with Venise lace. The same lace edged the cuffs, hemline and cathedral train.

For traveling to an undisclosed honeymoon destination, the new matron changed into a pink wool dress and coat ensemble with navy accessories.

Princess-style gowns of raspberry zarak linen were chosen by the attendants who included Sharon Jean Yasui as maid of honor. She carried carnations in varied shades of pink. The bridesmaids, Noelle Lille, Sharon DeBiagio and Laurie Nor-din, cousin of the bride, carried light pink carnations.

Michael asked John Patrick Griffin Jr. to be his best man, and ushering duties were shared by John O'Brien, Richard Grondona and Marty Moynihan, brother of the bride.

The new matron attended Mercy High School and Marquette University where she was a member of Alpha Delta Eta dental hygiene honorary. Her husband attended Serra High School and the College of San Mateo.

They will live in South San Francisco.

Jean Eisenmann, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Lynn Morgan, Janis Bell, and Sue Hamill. They wore long, light blue A-line gowns trimmed in satin.

Policeman Nails Pair With Drugs

Two teen-agers were arrested by Daly City police last week on narcotics and stolen property charges after an attentive patrolman saw a check protector fall from a package in front of Geneva Avenue motel.

Police said Laura Dianne Nail, 17, of 468 Chenery Street, San Francisco, and Jerry Lee Hull, 18, of 112 North Santa Rosa Drive, Fresno, were booked on charges of possession of a narcotics kit, narcotics paraphernalia and marijuana.

The girl was taken to the youth guidance center and the boy was jailed.

Authorities said Patrolman Steve Steen shortly after noon yesterday saw Hull carrying a package as Hull emerged from the entrance of the Vin Mar Motel at 3255 Geneva. From the package fell a check protector, reportedly stolen, police said.

Steen went to the Vin Mar room for which the two teen-agers shortly before had registered, and discovered a small amount of marijuana, a narcotics kit and narcotics paraphernalia, according to police.

Steen, assisted by patrolman Charles Munday, arrested the pair.

Jeff Elementary Ratifies Package

An angry board member walked out of the Jefferson Elementary School District meeting last week as the trustees ended the mini-strike threat by ratifying a compromise proposal recommended by a citizen's committee.

The committee had been appointed to mediate the dispute with the district's 460 teachers.

The pay package, which "splits the difference" between the board's "final offer" and the teachers' "minimum demand" on salary was approved last week by the teachers and will take effect immediately, retroactive to July 1.

The new salary schedule ranges from $6,381 for beginning teachers to $12,720 for those at top scale, and includes a district-paid dental insurance program.

The board approved the compromise plan by a vote of 4 to 1, with Trustee George Perry loudly dissenting.

Pounding the table as he spoke, Perry castigated his fellow board members and Supt. Frank Greenwood for deviating from their original "final proposal" on pay.

"Either our administrators were not doing their job properly, and were mistaken in stating the first proposal was the maximum taxpayers could afford, or we are being asked to cut back into other vital areas in order to pacify the teachers," Perry said.

He also criticized Board Chairman Ed Tomasello for appointing the citizen committee members "on his own."

"I want it made perfectly clear that the board chairman, and not the entire board, made these appointments," he said.

The citizens' committee, headed by Mayor Bernard Lyett, consisted of six members appointed by the district and the teachers, and one member chosen by the six appointed.

Tomasello said he was "willing to take full responsibility" for the citizens' committee.

"Regardless of who was right or wrong in the dispute over pay, the fact remains that we avoided a catastrophe which would have taken the district ten years to overcome," he said.

Supt. Frank Greenwood also defended the board's action in having the citizens' panel resolve the dispute.

"The only other alternative was to allow the district to sink into turmoil as a result of the 'mini-strike' threatened by teachers," he said.

After the salary schedule was approved, Perry left his seat at the board table and walked out of the meeting room when representatives of the teachers' Negotiating Council presented a proposal "to improve communication."

"I don't know anything about this, and I don't know what I am doing here," Perry stated prior to his departure.

After approving the teacher pay schedule, the board voted a 5 per cent pay increase and free dental plan for the district's classified employees.

Perpetuate Citizen Panel, Teachers Ask

Teacher leaders in Daly City's Jefferson Elementary School District have proposed perpetuation of the "citizens' panel" approach to resolving impasses between their negotiating council and the board of trustees.

Dennis Carr, a member of the negotiating council, submitted the proposed amendment to the district's "Winton Act Implementation policy" last Tuesday, and board members are considering the proposal this week.

Under the teacher proposal, a "board of review" similar to the "fact-finding panel" which helped resolve the impasse and "mini-strike" threat in the district last week, could be requested by either side in future disputes.

"Within seven days following notification by either party, the board and the negotiating council shall each select one person who has not served as a representative of either party and who is deemed expert in the subject matter under consideration," the proposal states.

The two appointed members would then select a third member to serve as chairman of the "board of review."

Should they fail to agree upon the third member, an appointment would be made by the county superintendent of schools.

The board of review would be empowered to "make inquiries and investigations, hold hearings, or take such other steps as it deems appropriate."

"If participating parties have not reached agreement within 20 days after the board's first meeting, members would make findings of fact and recommend terms of agreement."

A call for "non-binding mediation" was one of the principal demands of the district's 460 teachers during the recent dispute over salary.

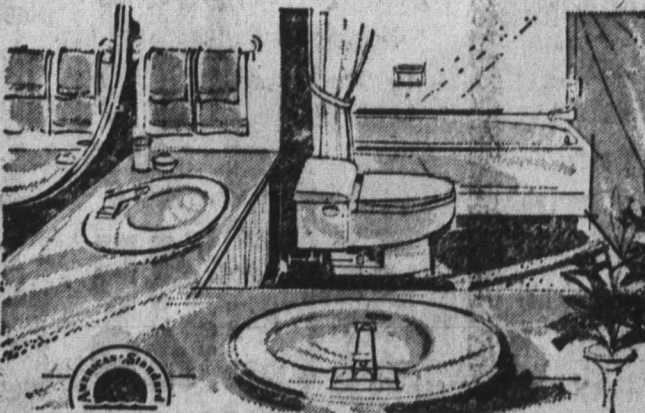

The board's allowing seven-member "blue-ribbon fact-finding panel" to make recommendations was considered a major concession to the teachers.

Carr said nothing in the procedure recommended Tuesday would "abrogate the legal responsibility and authority of the board of trustees," since recommendations of the board of review would be "non-binding."

Trustees had no comment on the proposal Tuesday, stating only that they would "have to have time to study it."

LE PACINI

AS YOU ALL KNOW BY NOW, no doubt, 1968 was the Year of the Pitcher in baseball, which is to say that the hitting was lousy. National sports publications both during and immediately after the season bombarded the public with all of the reasons why the hitting was so poor (we even tried a couple of columns on the subject), so we're not about to reiterate that theme. But we'd like to point out to you some facts, otherwise more mundanely known as statistics, which may make you realize more keenly just how unusual a baseball season 1968 was.

You real baseball fans may remember 1908, the year of the Hitless Wonders, the prototype of the bad hitting year, the greatest example of what the "dead" ball did to baseball excitement. Well, fans, the combined major league batting average of 1968 was three points lower than that all-time "unbeatable" low of 1908 — .236 to .233.

But the Long Ball of today produces many more runs and therefore more excitement than in 1908 you say? You're only fractionally right. In 1908 all of baseball averaged only 6.77 runs per game between both teams. In 1968, baseball averaged only 6.84 runs per game between both teams... the second all-time low.

AND THE LONG BALL? It's been 22 years since there were as few homers hit as there were in '68. And '68 also produced the highest percentage of shutouts (21 per cent of all games were blanks) since 1908.

Another fact. There have been no records kept of this as far as we know, but this may be the all-time high of the 20 teams in the majors in '68, 13 of them produced team earned run averages of less than 3.00!

Also consider this. For the first time in since 1918, not ONE player in the majors scored 100 runs! Even in 1908 each league produced one of those specimens.

Here's another spectacular statistic. Not until the last week of the season did Baltimore's Dave McNally — a good but certainly not great pitcher — allow more than six hits in any one game.

The Giants, as a team and individually, came up with some rather startling statistics. As a team, the Giants easily led the majors in complete games, and, Juan Marichal singlehandedly completed more games than did the entire staffs of Chicago, California and Washington in the American League, and Cincinnati in the National League. The Giant pitching staff also walked fewer batters than any team in the Big Time.

BUT HERE'S THE MOST startling Giant team statistic of them all. Our boys led the National League in pinch-hitting with an average of .257, much higher, you may note, than either their entire team average or almost any team batting average in the majors!

There was one quirk in the Year of Pitcher. There were only three 20 games winners in the National League, and four (one of them a 30-game winner) in the American League. That's about par in an average year, so for a "pitching year," there were very few 20-game winners.

What's the answer to the cessation and desisting of these spectacular statistics which induce very unspectacular games? Throughout the controversy we've leaned toward one of the 20 basic solutions which have been offered by baseball people, and the more we've thought of it this cold winter, the more valid it becomes. What we think would help the most — while recognizing that the weak hitting is a combination of many factors — would be the shrinking of the strike zone.

WE CHOSE THIS ONE FACTOR for three reasons: 1) obviously, it would cut into the pitcher's edge, while not crippling him by taking away a pitch, for instance (like the spitter); the worst it could do would cause him to try to improve his control; 2) it would represent little real change; 3) It would be very practical.

AS YOU NO DOUBT REALIZE by now, we're one of those who believe in as little change as possible in baseball. Historically, it has changed less than any of the major sports in our country, and has survived the longest. We don't mean we don't believe in radical changes. We don't even believe in small changes. As far as we're concerned, lowering the mound (one of the proposals), for instance, is too radical a thought. And as for moving fences in and playing more day baseball while things like that would undoubtedly help, it would involve tremendous costs to owners... so forget reconstruction and rescheduling.

BUT, the enlarged strike zone wouldn't cost anybody a thing (except headaches for the commissioner, trying to get umpires to enforce the changed strike zone), and it really wouldn't be a change, because it would merely represent a reversion back to the "old" strike zone prior to 1962, the year today's mini-strike zone came into being.

WHILE WE'RE STILL on the pitching statistics kick, here are some which may interest you. You know how it always seems as though the really good pitchers have their toughest games against the patsies but rise to the occasion against the top ranking teams? Well, assuming that what seems to be a 1968 trend has been constant through the years, you've been right. You haven't just imagined it. The really good pitchers DO seem to tend to pitch better against good teams.

Here are a few of relatively many examples: Juan Marichal's ERA against the Mets — 4.24 — was his worst of the year against any club. His best mark was against heavy-hitting Pittsburgh, 1.00. Gaylord Perry was at his worst against Houston with an 8.10; but didn't allow a run against the powerful Cubs.

Frank Linzy was 6.00 against the weak-hitting Dodgers, didn't allow a run to either the Cubs or Cards. Bob Gibson's highest ERA was also against the Mets. But to illustrate how fantastic Gibson was, that "high" mark was 1.80. Ferguson Jenkins was 3.86 against the Astros, 0.60 against our long-balling heroes.

IF YOU DIDN'T already know these well-publicized facts, the Giants have the best win-loss record in baseball over the past 11 years, and Herman Franks, during his four-year tenure as a runner-up, had the best managerial win-loss record in baseball.

In the past decade or so the Giants have beaten the Phillies most often, the Mets, closely followed by the Astros, by the largest ratio (the Mets and Astros didn't get beaten as often as the Phillies because they didn't enter the league until 1962). That sort of shoots the prevalent theory that the Giants always blow against the weak-sisters.

If you're interested in the negative side of it, only one team, the Braves, has a winning edge over the Giants in that period.

AND HERE'S A STATISTIC we'll bet you didn't know, while the Giants' attendance suffered at home, they were the best road draw in the National League.

IF WE MAY INDULGE ourselves with one last rash of baseball statistics, sort of. It goes like this. There's no greater admirer of Willie Mays than this writer. But we think Mickey Mantle to have been just as great a performer. And we don't mean, "if he didn't have the injuries." We mean injuries or not (though if you want an idea of the difference injuries have made to Mantle's career — Mays has played approximately only 50 more games than Mantle, but has been at bat well over 1,000 more times.)

For example, Mays has all the Golden Glove awards, but Mantle has had more career assists and holds a higher fielding percentage. Mays has never hit a World Series home run, and despite all his records for runs scored and all those extra times at bat, has scored only 86 more times than Mantle. Oops, you're saved. We're out of space.

Warriors Dominate

By JERRY LITTELL

This year's North Peninsula League selections ran true to the form they have followed for the past several seasons — domination by the champion South San Francisco Warriors and runner-up Westmoor High School.

The 'dream team' must have been a nightmare for the other squads in the conference as nine the first 11 offensive players came from the top two schools and six of the defensive 12 were either Rams or Warriors.

Once more the "Back of the Year" was a SSF product, Lory Bernardini, who is listed at 5-6, 174-pounds, but runs like some one six-inches taller and 30 pounds heavier.

Backfield coach Marv Ashby, a SSF described Bernardini, who made All-League both ways, as the "second-best line. Westmoor mentor Pete Matisi had praise for Powell's "He played the early part of the season with a leg injury but never gave up once that ball was snapped." Matisi noted. "He came through and sparked our line when the going was tough and we think he is a fine college prospect." Westmoor's Bob Abbott, a rugged blocker, was the only other twice-honored selectee.

Quarterbacking the All-Leaguers is SSF's Willie Ergas, a splendid runner who developed into a dangerous passer this year. Joining Ergas and Bernardini in the backfield were Westmoor's Jim Lewis, one of three returning juniors, and Jefferson's elusive Willie Cook.

The three-man SSF coaching staff made "Coach of the Year" collectively as head coach Ray DeJong and assistants Marv Ashby and Babe Medrano were chosen.

BEST TIME

Winner of hill run for the second straight year, in the "open division" was 32 year old Darryl Beardall of the Marin Athletic Club. He posted a time of 27 minutes, 15.2 seconds in the 5.2 miles race up Gaudalupe Canyon Road. Beardall's time was fastest of day — bettering winners of high school and "over 40" classifications.

THE POLIT WOODS' top series were rolled by Joyce Weed 427 and Lois Puli 419. The BOUFFANTS' top rollers were Diane Kanney who finished with 473 and Dol Turner whose series was 447. The KEGLETTES continue to have some fine series: Sharon McGuinness 235-370, Grace Reed 225-350 and Carol Lee 325.

Nancy Lyon bowled in the MERMAIDS with on top with 489 followed by Lois Marcelino with 465. High series in the AQUANAUTS were 498 bowled by Colleen Sloan and 494 rolled by Dol Turner. Sherry Goodwin converted the trickie 4-5-7 split in the CASCADES. Lorraine Lamaster came through with a beautiful 220 game and 320 series. In second slot was Alice Newman with 469. We had a couple of fine two-game series in the OCEANA BOWLING CLUB.

Bob Bishop totaled 320 while Bill Funk finished with 326. Joanne Altamend rode over the high series spot in the EBB TIDE league with a very nice 302-374 (ends he won a turkey to boot). Kay Saxon rolled 322 and right behind her was Rose Skiller with 310. In the SCALP HUNTERS, Helen Crayd was high this week with a 377 total.

In the LODGE TRIO (4 game series), Bob Lamonde rolled 700 as did Ray Fisher. Gabby Matton beat them out with a 704.

In the N.O.W. Doug Willick's series was 336, on his heels was Tony Chico with 321. The KINGS AND QUEENS turned up some terrific scores again: Dave Hyllon 313-381, Lou Knight 302-362, John Nilsen 212-350 and Rae Nelson 527. The girls were in the limelight in the STAR SHOOTERS league: Kelly Thompson 284-562, Claire Morel 547 and Terry Moore 516. By the way, Arlene D'Auria scored the 5-6-7-8-10! We must overlook the men's scores: Val Sallet 213-527 and Frank Skellern 513.

As usual, the 850 SCRATCH provided some fantastic totals: Mercedes Johnson 225-220-203-448. Dave Hyllon didn't let the men down: 217-205-402. Gene Morgan turned in a beautiful 345 game.

At the start of the week Kay Saxon racked up a 204-499 and Flossie Wishman's total was 466. In the YAWNERS, we have some special congratulations for Lee Daniel who rolled her very first 500 series in a make-up game for the JOCKERS. Her total was 350. Sara Stuber wasn't far behind with a 497. Another first 500 was bowled by Bonnie Jaspersen in the SPARE TOPS. Her series totaled 326. Beautiful, Bonnie, and welcome to the 500 Club!

In the LUCKY STRIKERS, Fred Sam rolled 201-522 and Ralph Giannini finished with 517. Eleanor Bond was tops for the girls with a 492 total. Shooting in the ALLEY HOLICS, their Secretary, Joanne Wynne rolled high series for the day with a 485 total. Terry Moore came in second with a 477. Down the lanes from them, Sue Andula scored 489 and Mary Lou Lovelady and Betsy Chandler tied for second with a 473 in the LIFE SAVERS league. In the NOON BEAMS, two girls on the same team shared the top spot with a 483 total. They were Bonnie Ligouri and Mary Lou Ferrando.

Rolling in the TERRA NOVA BOWLING CLUB, Steve Banks stole the show with a 501-594-395 total for two games. Offering strong competition was Ron Chesbro with 145-191-356. Division A of the SURPSIDE had its first 400 series of the season rolled by Roy Bishop: 212-193-194-601.

In the B Division, Nick Peppas came close with a beautiful 252 game and 992 series.

We have some good little bowlers in our junior program:

MINNOW — Danny Rohn 139, Laura Green 118, TADPOLES — Dan Breviss, 217, Harriet Wolfe 192 (2 game series).

SEALS — Mike Formanek 221, Cathy Struff 335, STINGRAYS — Duane Joyce 385, Gina Brown 422, DOLPHINS — Richard Bash 414, Pam Soti 419. KINGFISH — Bill Funk 501 and Steve Banks 492 (3 game series).

Thieves Saw Their Way In

Burglars sawed their way into Matthews TV and carted off three color television console sets and a black and white set, Daly City police reported.

The authorities said during night hours the burglars drilled holes in the rear of the building at 6400 Mission Street, then sawed their way inside.

Industrial Arts 'Students of the Month'

Showing shop skills and a well-rounded knowledge of shop safety, six Westmoor students have been selected 'Industrial Arts Students of the Month' for November.

Honored were Phil Schmuck, Plastics; Dan Proctor, Electronics; John Hill, Auto Shop; Ron Kaufman, Metal Shop; Steve Conran, Woodshop; and Mike Peters, Mechanical Drawing.

Second year plastics student Phil Schmuck was chosen because of his leadership in class activities, as well as work in vacuum butyrate.

Besides leadership ability Dan Proctor has displayed a broad knowledge in electronics. Working on an intricate mechanism for opening garage doors earned John Hill, a second year advanced auto student, his honor in auto mechanics.

Metal shop student Ron Kaufman has been displaying his skills in metals by making patterns for a drill press.

In woodshop Steve Conran is presently working on a glass and mahogany gun cabinet with two major parts, one for storage of guns, and the other for storage of ammunition and other equipment.

S. Bruno Chamber to Elect Officers

The San Bruno Chamber of Commerce will elect ten directors December 12. Larry Mobley, executive vice president and general manager of the chamber announced.

Sixteen members have been nominated by a committee headed by James Holderby.

They are: John Berglund, Marshall Bloss, Jack Bowlds, Ken Chapman, Henry Ewald, Gene Gallagher, Lloyd Ghiselli, Jack Head, Harold Highsmith, Norm Merkel, Robert Miller, Dr. Robert Orchard, Al Race, Don Riso, Bill Schneider, and Bill Wilson.

The board of directors has a membership of 20.

Mobley said that John Pierce is putting final touches to the chamber's "program of work" for 1969, with results to be released in December.

Another chamber committee is studying whether the city of San Bruno or private enterprise should operate a community antenna television system in the city.

Mobley also announced an "entirely new" dues billing system to finance the chamber next year.

"Principal feature of the new system," according to Mobley, "will be the voluntary investment amount set not by the chamber but by the member."

S.S.F. School District Asks Court Sustain Teacher Dismissal

The South San Francisco Unified School District filed suit in Redwood City Tuesday asking the Superior Court to sustain the dismissal of teacher Robert John Albrecht.

The lawsuit, filed by Deputy Dist. Atty. L. M. Summey, charges Albrecht with "immoral and/or unprofessional conduct; dishonesty; evident unfitness for service; physical and/or mental condition unfitting him to instruct or associate with children."

Supt. Paul Nielsen filed charges against Albrecht October 14 and suspended him at that time. Subsequently, Albrecht, through his attorney, Gerald Z. Marer, gave written notice of a demand for a hearing. Filing of the lawsuit is another step in the process of dismissing a permanent certificated teacher. The suit asks the court to find Albrecht guilty of the charges and to rule that constitute sufficient grounds for dismissal.

Specifically, the lawsuit alleges that on August 18 Albrecht landed at Los Angeles International Airport on a flight from Mexico with marijuana and 238 pills of dangerous drugs in his possession. It accuses him of "illegal consumption of narcotics."

In addition, it is charged that "on several occasions in the past (Albrecht) committed lewd and lascivious acts on or with pupils."

Criminal charges alleging six counts of child molestation have been filed against Albrecht by San Bruno police, who said the incidents occurred while Albrecht was a teacher at Monte Verde School. He pleaded not guilty and was released on $1,875 bail pending a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court December 10.

Until his suspension, Albrecht was special education consultant for the South San Francisco District.

Meanwhile, Doyle Ficken, principal at Monte Verde

School, said Albrecht had "no special connection" with the family life-sex education program there.

However, all regular teachers at the school are "involved" in the program, he said, and give some family life instruction.

Albrecht was switched from regular teaching duties at Monte Verde last year to the post of "special consultant" in the district schools this year.

Santa Claus makes his first official appearance in South San Francisco Friday, November 29, at the Chamber of Commerce and Recreation and Parks Department final plans for his arrival.

Now in its third year, the Santa Claus Arrival Day program signifies the city's official opening of the Christmas Season and brings Santa into town for the first time this year.

City Hall will be the beginning of a tour around to the city's shopping centers, via fire truck, beginning at 10 a.m. Santa Claus will visit personally with youngsters at the Magnolia Recreation Center from 2 to 3 p.m., which will climax the day's activities.

Information on this program may be obtained by calling the Recreation Department.

Boys Held In Burglary

Two 14-year-old boys were arrested by Daly City police on burglary charges last week and sent to the youth guidance center.

The boys, one from Daly City, the other from San Francisco, were charged in the burglary of a home at 139 Thier Street on November 16.

Cyclist Injured

A 15-year-old Daly City boy was reported in fair condition today at Mary's Help Hospital with head injuries and a broken collar bone suffered when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car at the corner of Schwerin and Iwo Jima streets Sunday.

Nathan Matthew Banglos, 15, of 102 Iwo Jima Street, ran into the side of a car driven by Cynthia Jeanne Earl, 27, of 65 Tinian Road, Daly City, shortly after 11 a.m. Sunday.

Police investigators said Miss Earl's car was making a left-hand turn at the time of the accident. A complaint against Miss Earl was requested from the District Attorney's Office, police said.

MOTTO

Ohio's state motto is "With God All Things Are Possible."

Dad Runs Over His Son

A South San Francisco man ran over his son Thursday when the child walked in front of a pickup truck at Los Cerritos School on Orange Avenue.

Police said five-year-old Hugo Caballero, son of Samuel Caballero, 120 B Street, was rushed to Peninsula with a fractured skull after the mishap occurred at 11:55 a.m.

The father said he let the child out of the truck at the rear of the school, and thought he had walked behind the truck.

When the elder Caballero pulled forward and away from the curb, he felt the truck strike something, and looked back to see his son lying in the street, police said.

Caballero rushed the child to the office of a local physician, and he was then transferred to the hospital.

Teamster Found Dead

Glenn Stephen Jones, 44-year-old teamster of 1660 South Norfolk Street, San Mateo, was found dead behind the wheel of his car in a South San Francisco parking lot Sunday.

The coroner's office scheduled an autopsy on Monday to determine the cause of death.

Police said they found Jones at 1:15 p.m. in his car parked at 751 Airport Boulevard.

$500 Taken In San Bruno

Burglars took $500 in currency and women's jewelry from the home of Matthew Albee at 125 Anza Way, San Bruno, last Friday, police reported.

Entry apparently was gained first through an unlocked garage door then by prying open a door leading to the Albee kitchen, police said.

Bus Fire

A fire of undetermined origin nearly gutted the interior of a $20,000 travel bus parked in the driveway of a Serramonte subdivision home last Tuesday.

Daly City firemen at station seven reported an estimated $10,000 damage was caused to the bus by the blaze, which was reported at 8:47 p.m.

The bus was owned by a visitor to 188 Shipley Street.

Fall Plans In Recreation

South San Francisco's Recreation and Park Department began its Fall, Winter and Spring recreational gym program last weekend at El Camino High School.

Every Saturday, 12 noon to 4 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 10 p.m. until April 12, 1969, the gym will be open for recreational activities on an informal and formally scheduled basis.

Upcoming activities at the high school will be basketball leagues for seventh and eighth graders, adult basketball leagues, volleyball and badminton, and a drop-in open gym for basketball. Special days and hours will be in effect at Christmas time for annual basketball tournaments, along with normal programs.

Vista Grande Cablevision Wins Franchise

Vista Grande Cablevision Inc., which operates a community antenna television (CATV) system in Pacifica and was awarded a franchise in September to do the same in Daly City, added the unincorporated Broadmoor area to its preview last Tuesday.

Vista Grande won out over two competitors when the County Board of Supervisors awarded the firm a franchise for Broadmoor, which is surrounded by Daly City.

Members of the board indicated that the big factor in choosing Vista Grande was the insistence by school officials that a single company serve the entire Jefferson High School District for the purposes of educational TV. It was also noted that Broadmoor is in Daly City's "sphere of influence" and that city officials had asked that Vista Grande get the bid.

Others in the competition were Western TV Cable, which serves South San Francisco and was the first to apply for the Broadmoor franchise, and California Cable Communications Corporation, which held the Daly City franchise until it was replaced by Vista Grande.

Daly City obtained a court injunction last June against the former franchise, forbidding it from making any new connections and restricting it to servicing the accounts it had.

California Cable Communications filed a cross-complaint in Superior Court yesterday, charging that Daly City's action in awarding the franchise to Vista Grande under more favorable terms amounted to a denial of equal protection of the law as guaranteed by the Constitution.

The countersuit asks the court to issue a permanent injunction against the awarding of any more franchises in Daly City and to declare the Vista Grande franchise null and void.

At the board hearing last week attorney Paul F. Kelly for Western TV, Gene Iacopi for California Cable, and Arthur Stambler for Vista Grande made pitches for their respective bids. Iacopi suggested that the board award franchises to all three "to separate the men from the boys."

ALMOST COMPLETED are the three portable classrooms at the Pedro Valley Elementary School in Pacifica. Long experiencing growing pains of jammed classrooms these almost permanent classes containing all the necessities for student comfort and safety will ease the load. Classes have their own intercom hookup with school office, heat, and will be fully equipped soon. Pedro Valley school principal Sam Buel hopes that the classes will be ready for occupancy after the first of the year.

Mary's Help Hospital Guild will offer a large and varied selection of Christmas cards, but December 3 is the deadline for ordering them, according to Mrs. Millie Dunow (right, above). Proceeds from the sale of cards are presented by the Guild to the hospital for the fund to construct and equip a cardiac care unit. Shown with Mrs. Dunow are (left to right) Marie O'Donnell, Margaret Koch and Claire Larsen. (Post Photo)

Brucato Resigns, Points To Cow Palace Development

Pointing out that during his term of office the Grand National became the best in 24 years, the Cow Palace was rehabilitated, and the Sports and Boat Show became the biggest in the nation, John G. Brucato, president of Agricultural District I-A, has submitted his resignation to Gov. Reagan, after eight years as a director of the Cow Palace, and two terms as its president.

His letter: Dear Governor Reagan: It has been my privilege to have served two terms (eight years) as a director of the Cow Palace (Agricultural District I-A), the last two years as president of this great state institution.

Inasmuch as my term will be expiring in early 1969, I am respectfully submitting my resignation effective Dec. 31, 1968. This will give you an opportunity and time to consider the appointment of a new director to commence January 1, 1969.

I was appointed to the board by former Governor Edmund Brown for the primary purpose of "upgrading" the Grand National and the Junior Grand National shows which had somewhat "deteriorated" over the years.

repaid with interest to the state in yearly installments. This has been made possible only through a policy of building up revenues and cutting costs.

We have recently developed a close relationship with the Oakland-Alameda Coliseum concept and are no longer "bitter rivals," but friendly and cooperative competitors. In this respect conflicting schedules are now avoided and a spirit of Bay Area cooperation has been created.

The most recent accomplishment has been the signing of a five-year contract with the San Francisco Warriors Basketball team and a new National Ice Hockey contract that will return ice hockey to San Francisco and help keep the Cow Palace in the "black."

The Sports and Boat Show is now the biggest in the nation as are other events, such as the Dog Show, Wescon, track meets and stage shows to name a few.

One of the greatest achievements in the past few years has been the new spirit in the Cow Palace involving the directors, exhibitors, livestock people, and personnel, which previously left much to be desired.

It has been a privilege and a pleasure to have served the state in this capacity for the past eight years.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you and your staff for the cooperation and the many courtesies extended to me.

Respectfully,
JOHN G. BRUCATO,
President,
Agricultural District I-A.
